Fear Major Flood in Ohio Valley

RIVER DUE TO REACH CREST LATE TONIGHT

Central Ohio Also Hit; Situation Improves in Marion, Surrounding Counties.

While high water in Marion and adjoining counties began to subside today, central Ohio and the Ohio River valley section undertook to prepare for possible flood conditions.

A rapidly rising Ohio river is scheduled to reach flood proportions throughout the Cincinnati district late today and tonight. Indications are a "major flood" is in the making.

Central Ohio areas are flooded with highways under water and residents near creeks and rivers preparing to move out if rising waters reach them.

In Marion county, route 203 between Prospect and Newman's along the Scioto river remains flooded. In Morrow county roads are again passable after the deluge of Sunday which took an estimated $50,000 toll of damage including washouts of the T. & O. C. railroad culvert and three highway bridges.

Prospect Road Still Closed

Route 203 between Prospect and the intersection of route 4 at Newman's corners south of Marion was still closed by floodwaters today, and water was up to the edge of sections of route 95 near LaRue, but other county highways were reported open by the county engineers's office and the county division of the State Highway department.

The water at LaRue was receeding last night, but the night's rainfall edged the water level back up again until it was on a level with highway 95.

The state highway patrol reported all other highways in the area open.

Morrow Co. Roads Clear After Deluge

Special to The Star.

MT. GILEAD, April 13—All Morrow county highways are clear today, but the deluge of rain Sunday and yesterday left a wave of damage estimated at $50,000 when three bridges in the eastern part of the county and a culvert of the New York Central railroad were washed out.

Traffic over the Bucyrus-Thurston branch of the T. & O. C. division of the railroad was restored yesterday when section crews replaced the washed-out culvert south of Mt. Gilead. Reduction of the railroad's schedule due to the coal strike probably prevented a derailment, officials indicated, as no trains ran over the track Sunday night and the washout was discovered by maintenance men early yesterday. Normal traffic over the section is 10 to 12 trains a day.

One of the three bridges washed out was a 72-foot span over Owl creek in eastern Morrow county. Loss to roads in the county highway system was estimated by officials at $40,000.

A 20-minute downpour during which four-fifths of an inch of rain fell, temporarily stalled traffic on route 42 and 95 and on several streets in Mt. Gilead and Cardington. A total of 3.2 inches of rain fell in Mt. Gilead Sunday.

Major Flood Threatened In Cincinnati Area

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, April 13—The rapid rising Ohio river will reach flood proportions throughout the Cincinnati district late today and tonight and current rains indicate a "major flood" is in the making, the U. S. weather bureau reported.

Declining to predict a possible crest, Meteorologist J. Cecil Alter said the 50-foot flood stage would

TIPPLES AGAIN GIVE OUT COAL

Production Spurts to 75 Per Cent Normal as Miners Return After Strike.

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, April 13—Soft coal poured from the nation's tipples today as thousands of miners ended a 29-day strike by accepting a pension agreement.

Production spurted to 75 per cent of normal in some areas. But the work return of 400,000 United Mine Workers was not yet general.

Some unionists declined to work until disposal of contempt of court charges against UMW chief John L. Lewis. Others awaited the results of union local meetings scheduled today.

Among the pits still idle were the H. C. Frick Coke company National 1 and 3 and the same firm's Robena mine, the world's largest. H. C. Frick is a U. S. Steel Corp. subsidiary. Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. captive pits, Vesta 4 and 5, also were idle.

Production crews were reported to be back in Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s Marianna, Cokeburg and Ellsworth pits in western Pennsylvania.

The western Pennsylvania Coal Operators association in Pittsburgh said an early survey showed 26 of about 40 deep and strip mines in its area were in production. These active mines normally employ about 10,000 men but were operating today with about 75 per cent of personnel.

Anthracite Workers Back

In eastern Pennsylvania more than 30,000 anthracite miners trooped back to the diggings, ending a sympathy walkout begun a week ago in support of the soft coal miners.

Sam Caddy of Lexington, Ky., president of UMW district 50, predicted many of that state's 52,000 miners might end their walkout today. About half of Alabama's 20,000 miners were working.

Most southern Illinois mines were reported in operation at 75 per cent to normal.

Only 1,000 Back In Ohio Mines

By The Associated Press

BELLAIRE, O., April 13—About 1,000 men returned to work in five eastern Ohio mines today. One big strip mine also resumed operation.

Workers in three other mines voted not to return until after the contempt hearing for the president of the United Mine Workers, John L. Lewis.

Workers in others of the 20-odd mines in the Belmont-Jefferson-Harrison county area still had not voted on returning to the pits.

Allen Co. Candidate Dies in Auto Crash

By The United Press

LIMA, O., April 13—Jess Cochran, 67, Republican candidate for Allen county commissioner in the May primaries, was killed instantly yesterday in a two car collision four miles west of here.

Cochran had been superintendent of the Allen county infirmary for the past 17 years.

The driver of the other car, Herber Schimmoeller, 22, of Spencerville, was in St. Rita's hospital with possible cheek and shoulder fractures.

Over 2-Billion-Dollar Emergency Air Power Fund Gets Speedy OK

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 13—A $2,376,100,000 dip into next year's military funds for an emergency warplane and guided missile program won quick committee approval in congress today.

Designed as a go-ahead signal for the aviation industry to tool up for still greater output, the surprise money request was okayed in full by the house appropriations group.

The committee's locked-door hearings had been assumed to cover only the $725,000,000 boost in aviation funds asked by President Truman last Thursday.

But the White House followed that with a second request, which remained secret until today. That was because the committee already was in session and the new message went directly to it instead of through normal congressional channels.

Included in Original Figure

Aside from the timing, however, the bigger amount in today's bill represents no increase in the $14,000,000,000 contemplated for military spending in the year beginning July 1 to back up this country's new stop-Russia policy.

Barring a new emergency, the air power funds simply will be deducted from the amount that would have been voted later.

The money will, however, be available for use immediately as soon as congress passes the bill. It is set for quick approval in the house tomorrow.

The Army and the Navy previously have been given about $8,750,000,000 for the year ending June 30.

The committee said the additional $2,376,100,000 should be made available immediately to save time and get the aviation industry under a full head of steam.

Here's how the new money is earmarked:

Air Forces: For new spending $1,223,100,000, including $358,100,000 cash and $865,000,000 in contract authority; new cash to pay off previous contract authorizations $250,000,000.

Naval Aeronautics: for new spending $753,000,000, including $165,000,000 in cash and $588,000,000 in contract authority; new cash to pay off previous contract authorizations $150,000,000.

The cash for new Air Forces spending includes $1,140,000,000 for plane buying, $10,300,000 for the purchase of controlled missiles, and $72,800,000 for miscellaneous projects.

For the Navy $738,700,000 is set aside for the plane buying, $9,300,000 for pilotless aircraft, and $5,000,000 for miscellaneous projects.

Nowhere in the committee's formal report on the bill or in the printed records of its hurried hearings was there any explanation of how many planes would be acquired with the new funds.

QUESTION RICHWOOD MAN IN STABBING

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, April 13—Union county officials were to question Edgar (Buck) Carr, 40, of Richwood today in connection with the stabbing and robbery of Gale Hogue, Sheriff Homer Roosa said this morning.

The York township farmer was stabbed and robbed of $300 Friday morning. Carr and Paul DeBolt, 21, also of Richwood are being held. DeBolt who admitted robbing Hogue is being held on a charge of assault and armed robbery after being picked up Sunday night in Richwood.

Carr, picked up in Lima Monday, also admitted the robbery. Both have denied any knowledge of the stabbing, Roosa said.

Carr will be questioned by the Sheriff and County Prosecutor William Coleman following positive identification of the two men made this morning in the sheriff's office by Hogue. Charges on Carr will hinge on questioning today and may include cutting with intent to kill in addition to armed robbery, Roosa said.

Marine Recruiting Station Opens Here

A Marine Corps Recruiting Service station opened yesterday at the Central Fire station on South Prospect street with M/Sgt. D. C. Esterly and S/Sgt. R. E. Danford in charge.

The station will be open from 8 a. m. until 4:30 p. m. daily, Easterly said. Physically fit men from the ages of 17 to 28 will be recruited for three and four year enlistments.

Ex-Marines may also pick up Victory medals at the station and enlist in the Marine Reserves.

BOGOTA MEET BEING RENEWED

Inter-American Sessions To Resume in Revolt-Torn Colombian Capital.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 13—The 21-nation Inter-American conference may resume tomorrow in the revolt-scarred city of Bogota.

A combined press and radio dispatch to the state department from the Colombian capitol said conference sessions probably would be renewed then with a ceremony honoring Simon Bolivar, South America's famed liberator.

The United States has offered to help feed delegations by flying in Army rations, presumably from Panama.

To expedite conference work, delegates are reported to have agreed to shelve all economic matters formally scheduled for discussion before the revolution interrupted the meeting April 9.

These economic questions include the problem of how the U. S. can further aid Latin America. They would be tackled at a special economic meeting later in the year, probably in Buenos Aires.

International Reds, Marshall Says

By The Associated Press

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 13—Secretary of State George C. Marshall blames International Communism for the abortive revolution which ravaged Bogota and disrupted the Pan American conference.

Marshall told newsmen and conference delegates last night the revolt followed the same pattern as outbreaks which have provoked labor troubles in France and pre-election unrest in Italy.

Delegates are expected to ratify today their determination to continue the conference here, despite the riots which have destroyed much of the city and killed 300 persons. Earlier, sources close to Marshall said the U. S. had taken the stand the conference must remain in Bogota.

Marshall is the first conference delegate, outside the Colombian government, publicly to attribute the revolution to world communism and indirectly to Russia.

Delegates To Report

Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.) a member of the U. S. delegation, told newsmen last night he was returning to Washington today to report to congress on the revolution.

(In San Francisco, Antonio J. Gaitan, brother of Jorge Eliecer Gaitan, liberal leader, whose slaying Friday touched off the revolt, said the assassination was the opening move in a plot intended to "reach" Secretary of State Marshall.

City Paralyzed

Bogota still is paralyzed and the city's 400,000 population faces a serious health problem. Hospitals crowded with wounded have sent out appeals for serum. Corpses still litter the streets.

Damage runs into millions of dollars. Since Friday, roving mobs have smashed at least 1,000 stores, set fire to 40 major buildings and ruined many of the city's churches.

TAFT, HARTLEY ACT UPHELD IN MAJOR POINTS

Court Ruling Sustains Anti-Red Pledge and Filing of Union Statements.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 13—Splitting 2-1, a special three-judge court today ruled constitutional two key provisions of the Taft-Hartley labor act — those requiring union officers to swear they are not Communists and unions to file financial statements.

The provisions apply only to those unions which want to make use of the national labor relations board's machinery. But unions which do not go to NLRB can not get legal status as exclusive bargaining agent in a plant.

It was the second major court ruling on constitutionality of important provisions of the Taft-Hartley act. On March 13, U. S. District Judge Ben Moore ruled unconstitutional a section forbidding spending of union funds for political purposes. The NLRB has appealed Moore's ruling to the supreme court.

The three-judge court which ruled today is a tribunal which federal laws provide for in order to speed action on constitutional issues.

In effect, it takes cases at the district court level, but appeals from it go directly to the supreme court, bypassing U. S. circuit courts of appeals. This also can be done in some cases on regular U. S. district court decisions. It was done in the case of Moore's ruling.

In today's ruling, Judges Wilbur K. Miller and Bolitha J. Laws upheld the non-Communist and financial registration provisions. Judge E. Barrett Prettyman dissented.

Sees U. S. Position Strengthened

Robert N. Denham, NLRB general counsel, said the decision "strengthens the hand of the country in dealing with the Communists in labor." He told a reporter that "every effort should be made to expunge Communists from the labor movement."

The case was brought by the CIO National Maritime union.

Many top labor men have been critical of the provision. Some call it an "insult" for congress to demand that labor men make such a statement.

In New York, a spokesman for the union's attorney said the case will be taken to the supreme court — the only court which can give a final decision on the constitutionality of the provision.

Louis R. Harolds, a member of the firm of William Standard, the union attorney, said Standard will argue the case before the higher court.

The three-judge court's majority opinion said:

"Instead of being convinced beyond reasonable doubt that section 9 (H) of the statute is void for violating the basic law (Constitution), we hold the considered view that the subsection is a constitutional exercise of congressional power to prescribe qualifications which must be possessed by those who ask to enjoy the extraordinary privilege of acting as exclusive bargaining agent.

"It would be unrealistic to say, in the light of all that appears, that the presence of Communists in key positions in labor relations does not constitute a clearly discernible and imminent threat to important national interests."

Dissenting View

"A requirement as to political belief, imposed upon the use of a facility, is not a mere condition upon a privilege," it is, in fact, an abridgement of political belief."

Prettyman said congress "can not establish a government facility which in practice becomes a necessity to activity in that field, and then impose upon the use of the facility a requirement that the persons involved waive a constitutional right."

NEBRASKA HAS PRIMARY CALL

Taft, Dewey, Stassen Conceded To Be GOP Presidential Choices.

By The Associated Press

OMAHA, April 13—Nebraska Republicans pick from a field of seven candidates today the man they want the GOP national convention to nominate for president in June.

With heavier-than-usual primary voting in prospect, most politicians here thought top choice lies between Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

These three ended their campaigns with a blaze of oratory directed primarily against Communism. Stassen was the only one here for a personal appearance. Dewey and Taft talked to Nebraska voters only by radio.

Taft Sticks To Stand

But what they said added up to a general attack on the Communists, pinpointed at the Bogota, Colombia, revolt.

Taft, who startled Nebraskans months ago by a proposal in Omaha for scaling down farm price support, stuck to his guns in a radio platter broadcast to the state.

The Ohioans said the farm parity formula must be revised. He added:

"The trouble with a flat 90 per cent guarante of parity is that it cannot be carried without production controls."

Taft is dead-set against any major government controls of production or prices. Parity is a formula aimed at giving the farmer the same purchasing power he had in a former favorable period, usually 1909 to 1914.

Vandenberg Backers

The Stassen-Dewey-Taft trio generally was looked upon as leaders in the seven-man race for the endorsement of Nebraska's Republicans.

But there were some politicians who forecast that Sen. Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan—who says he isn't interested in the nomination—might run well up among the leaders.

Almost no campaigning has been done here for him or for Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Gov. Earl Warren of California, and house Speaker Joseph Martin of Massachusetts.

Dewey, speaking by radio, said the Bogota uprising was a

Marion Men Indicted At Upper Sandusky

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, April 13—Two Marion men were indicted yesterday by a Wyandot county grand jury.

Indicted for armed robbery was Paul Robert Clark, 20, of 131½ South State street. Indicted on two counts for armed robbery and unarmed robbery was Raymond Edward Littell, 29, of 276 Park Boulevard.

Both men were indicted on charges arising out of the holdup and robbery of Reno's recreation room in Upper Sandusky April 1. Arraignment will be later this week.

Both men are still in Wyandot county jail, Clark under $10,000 bond and Littell under $5,000 bond.

Morrow County Men In Freak Accident

By The United Press

WEST NEWTON, Pa., April 13—The town clock was demolished here yesterday in a freak accident involving a runaway truck, five automobiles, a laundry truck and a freight train.

A bean-loaded truck went out of control at the top of the town's main street. Careening downhill, the truck sideswiped three cars, rammed another, crashed into the clock and carried the laundry truck into the eastbound Baltimore & Ohio train.

Highway and railroad traffic was tied up for an hour. No one was injured.

Occupants in the runaway truck were Ray Stevens, of Edison, O., and his assistant, Nelson Clinger, of Cardington, O.

Wallace, one-time secretary of agriculture, was born in New York City.

2 MORRAL MEN DIE AS TRUCK AND BUS CRASH

Farmers on Buying Trip for Machinery; Killed in Collision Near Findlay.

Two Morral district farmers, a father and his son, are dead today following the crash of their light pickup truck and an onrushing Greyhound bus nine miles north of Findlay yesterday afternoon.

The dead are Leonard Swavel, 56, prominent Morral district stock farmer and deer hunter, and his son Harold "Abe" Swavel, 31, also a well-known farmer and father of two children.

The fatal crash occurred at 2:00 p. m. yesterday 120 feet south of the intersection of U. S. route 25 and state route 18 just east of North Baltimore.

Neighbors report the elder Swavel recently announced plans to retire from the operation of his 600-acre farm in Wyandot and Marion counties and had sold his farm interests to his sons. The Swavels were on the second of a series of buying trips in search of a new disc harrow and their destination was unknown to friends.

Four on Bus Hurt

Four persons were injured aboard the bus which was driven by William J. Ogle, 40, of Toledo.

The injured are:

Mrs. Jacob Mohr, 30, of Harrison, Mich., who suffered contusion of the right chest.

Mrs. Eloise Nelson, 31, Byron City, N. C., laceration over left eye.

Rev. O. B. Rhodes, 50, Pontiac, Mich., possible fractured right wrist.

William J. Ogle, driver of the bus, was not injured.

State patrolmen believe Leonard Swavel was driving the truck at the time of the accident although this will never be definitely determined as both men were thrown clear of the truck.

Patrolmen report the road was wet at the time of the accident, as it had just started to rain. The point of impact in the crash as shown by damage to both vehicles indicates the right side of the truck collided with the left side of the bus. This impact broke the air brake line on the bus throwing it out of control. The bus ran through a picket fence and 250 feet into a field bordering the road before stopping.

Eight of the 32 passengers aboard the bus were treated for minor injuries at Findlay hospital and placed aboard a relief bus to continue their journey.

Double Funeral

Double funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Lucas funeral home in Upper Sandusky. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery at Upper Sandusky. Friends may call at the funeral home after 1 p. m. Wednesday.

Leonard Swavel was born Nov. 27, 1889, in Wyandot county, a son of George and Caroline Roszman Swavel. He was a member of the Meeker and Marseilles Sportsmen's club.

Surviving with his widow, Mrs. Nellie Milum Swavel, are a daughter, Mrs. James Hartle of Kenton; a son, Paul Swavel of near Morral, grandchildren, and brothers, Harry Swavel of near Morral and William Swavel of Morral.

Harold Swavel was born Jan. 10, 1917, in Marion county.

Surviving with his widow, Mrs. Jeannette Alban Swavel, and his mother are children, Tommy and Carolyn Swavel, both at home, his sister in Kenton and his brother of near Morral.

SPEAKER NAMED FOR COMMENCEMENT

Dr. Bernard Clausen of Cleveland To Address Class.

Dr. Bernard Clausen of Cleveland has been selected as the speaker for the annual graduation exercises to be held by Harding High school on June 3, it was announced today.

Dr. Clausen, an eloquent speaker and one of the outstanding ministers in Cleveland, is pastor of one of the largest Baptist churches in that city. He has been heard by Marion audiences, having conducted a series of union revival services at Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church, under the sponsorship of the interdenominational group, about four years ago. At that time he also addressed an assembly at Harding High school where he was enthusiastically received by both the student body and the faculty members.

Truman Closing Third Year As President, "In Training" for 1948 Election Campaign

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, April 13—President Truman is getting down to fighting trim for the 1948 campaign after closing the books on his turbulent third year in office.

To a man his intimates say he isn't even considering suggestions from within his dissension-swept party that he step aside in favor of some other Democrat for the presidential nomination.

His physician, Brig. General Wallace H. Graham, is keeping close tab on Mr. Truman's weight to get him ready for a lot of traveling and a lot of speechmaking before the November election.

Graham says the President—who will be 64 May 8—has the vitality of many men 10 years or more younger.

The President's almost daily walks in the vicinity of the White House are just a part of his attack against a tendency to add weight. He is walking in the afternoon most of the time now instead of before breakfast.

He swims three or four afternoons a week in the White House pool, using a "Missouri side-stroke." Because he must wear his glasses, he swims with his head well out of the water.

His fight to keep trim includes regular rub downs, too, but it is at the table where the hardest fight must be made.

Keeping His Weight Down

Associates say the President eats sparingly. At the same time, Dr. Graham is always on the lookout for what he calls "dietary indiscretions." He cringes if he sees the President indulge in highly-spiced or other hard-to-digest foods at banquets.

Mr. Truman weighed about 167 pounds when he entered the White House that solemn afternoon of April 12, 1945, when word came of the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt at Warm Springs. He could still wear his World War I uniform.

The confinement of the White House cuts down his activity. Weight edged up on him. At one time he tipped the scales at 179.

He started getting out of the White House more and more frequently for two-mile walks. He pushed back his plate earlier.

Before long, under Graham's careful supervision, he had brought the weight down to 172. There he has kept it for months, give or take a pound or two occasionally.

Still Keeps Up Pace

Graham also works constantly on a minor bronchial ailment with which the President has been troubled for years. Sometimes, when he talks often or at great length, a huskiness is noticeable.

The President's gray hair is thinner than it was three years ago. There are a few more lines in his face. But there is no evidence of advancing age in the 120-steps-a-minute Army pace he sets in his walks.

When he sees newsmen—which is often, since he attends many dinners and has frequent ceremonies at the White House to which they are called in—the President is as cheerful and friendly as ever. His grin is ever-present.

He told a news conference recently he is not disturbed by the growing revolt against his administration from southern Democrats. He suggested that the reporters wait and see whether the revolters come back in November.

The revolt, which has since spread to other groups—on other issues—started in the south early in the year when he submitted a series of civil rights proposals to congress.

Protest His Stands

Embracing proposed anti-lynching, poll-tax repeal, fair employment practice and anti-discrimination legislation, they stirred governors and congressmen to angry protests.

There were calls for the nomination of someone else—like Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—who had said he didn't want the Republican nomination.

The President's visit to the Virgin Islands, when he entertained and was entertained officially by Negro Gov. William Hastie, did little to soothe the injured.

He was already having his troubles in the industrial north and east. Henry A. Wallace, whom he ousted from the cabinet, was in the midst of a campaign as a third party candidate.

Suddenly the President announced a change in the administration's position on Palestine. He called for a truce between warring Jews and Arabs and for a temporary United Nations trusteeship over the Holy Land. There were waves of protests from Zionists and from Democratic politicians in areas of heavy Jewish population.

Two sons of the late President Roosevelt, Franklin Jr. and Elliott, joined the draft-Eisenhower move.

While congress passed overwhelmingly Mr. Truman's European recovery program, aimed at halting the spread of communism in Europe, it did little but criticize his domestic proposals. It overrode with little ceremony his veto of a bill cutting taxes by $4,800,000,000.

"Boils" in Highways, Frost Damage, Cited

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 13—Long periods of sub-zero weather and dry ground which permitted the frost to penetrate to more than four feet are blamed by Crawford county state highway superintendent H. G. McMichael for the bad condition of highways in Crawford county which he said are the worst since 1939.

Frost damages, "boils" and upheavals are general about the county and repairs are going forward as rapidly as possible with the present crews of workers available under the limited budget for state highway work, McMichael said today.

Workers are now engaged on a repair job of an upheavel in the highway 166 feet in length on state route 4 three miles south of Bucyrus. Just completed is an 80 foot strip on state route 98 east of Bucyrus, work started today on a strip on route 30N, west of Bucyrus. One-way traffic is being maintained on all of the jobs.

TOP MUSIC HONORS

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 13—Top place was taken by the Holmes-Liberty boys' quartet which competed with other music groups at the state school music festival in Columbus last Friday. The boys Glenn Spiegel, Howard Yaussy, Robert Whitmeyer and Robert Lyon, received a grade 1 rating in the group of class C schools entered. John Ackerman of Bucyrus, rated grade 2 in the piano contest for class B schools and Carolyn Harer of Mt. Zion achieved a similar rating in the class C competition in piano.

Visitor to Germany To Speak in Prospect

A lecture on the subject, "Germany Today—What About Russia" will be given by L. F. Warbington, farm leader of Sidney, O., Thursday at 8:15 p. m. in a program at the Prospect High school auditorium. The program is under the sponsorship of the Prospect Lions club.

Tickets are available from all Lions club members. Special music also will be given as a part of the program.

Mr. Warbington has lectured through seven states since returning from Germany where he was sent by the U. S. state department to assist in setting up educational programs and organizing cooperatives to serve the German people. While in Germany, he served with the Civil Affairs Division of the war department. Originator of the Advisory Council program in Ohio, Mr. Warbington set up the first Advisory Council in Bavaria, the same soil which started the Nazi regime.

WHISTLE
Golden ORANGE Refreshment

There's always one at the top . . . always one combining in the greatest degree the qualities that make a champion. In the field of automobile motor oils you'll find a new name "up there" today. It's "H.Q." (Highest Quality)—a modern lubricant which we believe is unexcelled for long mileage, easy starting, resistance to sludge, all-round engine protection, and high viscosity index. For sure protection of today's expensive cars under any driving conditions . . . change to new H.Q.

THE STANDARD OIL CO. (OHIO)

Now it's your turn!

Our laboratories developed this great, modern motor oil after years of research. In only six months Ohio car owners have made it tops in popularity. There are good reasons—such as low oil consumption, easy starting, positive engine protection. Now, with your spring oil change, is the time to take advantage of H.Q.'s many benefits.

H.Q.—a good reason for getting your spring oil change at Sohio!

NOTE: This advertisement, run originally only six months ago, was the first public announcement of H.Q. Motor Oil. So many people have benefited from this modern oil since then that we are repeating it now at spring changeover time.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?
If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way:
Everytime food enters the stomach, a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.
To get real relief, you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.
Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.
Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

AGAINST WAR TALK

Editor of The Star: The late Franklin D. Roosevelt, together with Winston Churchill, proclaimed to the world the "Atlantic Charter" with its four freedoms: freedom of speech, freedom of religion, freedom from fear and freedom from fear. This charter was a beacon light of hope for the American people and for the peoples of the world as well.

Less than three years ago we ended a war, a terrible war, to rid the world of that monstrosity, that Frankenstein, called fascism. Mussolini marched into Rome with the slogan: Down with Bolshevism! Where is he now? That was the slogan Hitler used to gain power in Germany. Where is he now? Maybe he was sneaked away to Washington to direct the present propaganda here; for hardly had the smoke of the battle of Berlin cleared when our radio broadcasts changed their tone towards one of our mightiest allies, Russia. Since then not one newscast has failed to mention Russia as a potential enemy. And it is not confined to newscasts; it is injected into the entertainment programs as well. All the experience of fighting together against Hitler fascism, all the brave words of General Eisenhower and Winston Churchill in commendation and admiration of the valiant fight of the Russian people, who were the first to halt the advance of Hitler's hordes, have been erased from the minds of the American people by the steady beat of the anti-Russian propaganda.

All issues are confused until, like one man just told me, "no one knows what to believe;" until all confidence in everybody is undermined. People are saying: "Our democratic liberties are slipping away from us;" "Our liberties have long ago disappeared." We have glaring examples. When a man takes a stand for democracy he is at once attacked as a "red" and threatened with the loss of his livelihood.

Fear of the loss of his job, fear of being called a "red," or "Communist," fear of Russia, fear of war; a veritable reign of terror is used to paralyze any activity in behalf of bettering the lot of the common people; to take their attention away from realities, the taking over of our government and economic life by the monopolists.

Read Walter Lippmann's "We Must Get Tough at Home" in The Star of March 18, and you see just what is happening. The war scare is not because of Russian aggression, but deliberate planning by our monopolies and brass hats.

Italy is another base being prepared. How would we like to have the speaker of the house of some other country tell our people of that origin to write to their relatives here and tell them how to vote? Like one man received a reply: "Why don't you mind your own business?" that is what we would say. How do we here know and understand the issues in Italy, when we have a time understanding our own?

For years we Americans have advocated settling differences by way of the council table. That was why the United Nations was created. But very evidently the will to that sort of settlement is not present. One day Mr. Truman tells congress that "Russia will not cooperate, will not agree to anything." The next day he turns about face on the very question on which the Soviets had agreed. When Russia does agree our leaders have the jitters. No wonder we have so many "headaches, bellyaches and nervous breakdowns." Mere brutal force is not going to win a battle of ideas. That has already been very forcibly demonstrated. We need intelligence of a superior kind and patience. I'm for the ideas expressed on the Background of Thinking program on WMRN last Monday night. Let us make Democracy work. In such a way that it is worth exporting. Let us give our people the four freedoms proclaimed in the Atlantic Charter. We cannot have peace when we go around with a chip on our shoulder, daring the other fellow to knock it off. Whosoever is for war cannot truly call himself a Christian. And which is a real Christian, the one who fears hell and damnation or the one who loves God and his fellowman?

A graduate of Harding High school in 1942, he spent three years in service, a part of which was in overseas duty. Prior to the end of hostilities he was a prisoner of war in Germany for several months.

Others in the straight A group included Stanley Arter of Crestline and Donald Eppley of Bucyrus.

Apparel, Decorating Talks at Sessions

BUCYRUS, April 13—The new look in apparel and in home decorations provided material for talks on annual achievement day for the Crawford county home council last week. About 160 women heard Miss Leota Leyda, home agent of Sandusky county speak on fashion trends and the talk by J. F. Bennett of the Bennett interior decorating studio of Toledo. Mr. Bennett substituted for Mrs. Gypsy Bennett. Music by the Home Makers chorus was an afternoon highlight. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon.

Mrs. Charles Schiefer Jr. presided. New officers installed were: Mrs. Floyd Kibler, president; Mrs. Ralph Neff, vice president; Mrs. G. L. Sebach, secretary-treasurer.

823 STREET MARKERS

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus streets are taking on a "new look" as election of new street markings progresses, the first of 823 markers recently ordered by the city officials. Signs are of a new type, easily visible at night and at a cost of $3,229.02. Expense of placing them will be about $400. Police Chief Arthur Stuckert today warned that no excuses of poor street markings will be accepted from violators.

Lions Club To Buy New Devices To Detect Hearing Deficiencies of Pupils in Schools

Another service project of the Marion Lions club to aid in furthering opportunities for the people and children of Marion and Marion county, is the purchase of devices to detect inefficiency in hearing of school children. Two machines, known as audiometers, are being presented by the club to the schools, one for the city school system and another for use in the county school system.

Purchase of the audiometer by the club, along with other work which the club does in sight conservation and blind work, is made possible by the charity bazaar held annually, the entire proceeds from which go for the club's charity work.

The two machines, made by the Audio Development Co., have been ordered by the club and are expected to be received for formal presentation to school officials in May.

Many Have Difficulty

Through surveys, it has been found that 60 per cent of the American people have some hearing loss, some of which cannot be detected. The audiometer is used to detect hearing deficiencies.

Present plans are for a survey to be taken with the audiometers of all school children, from the first grade through the twelfth, beginning at the start of the new school year in September, 1948. It has been determined that at least a year will be required to complete the survey.

The audiometer is operated on the volume and frequency basis, and approximately 40 seconds are required to test each student. For the test, ear phones are placed over the ears and the audiometer is set at a volume of 15 decimals below normal, which is considered near enough normal for the average person, and at a frequency of 122, which is considered the most common and lowest pitch. Pitches on the machine can range from this lowest of 128 to the highest of 11,584, and eight different frequencies are tested within this range. The points at which the boy or girl can determine the tone will designate whether the child has defective hearing and to some extent how serious it is.

Two Main Purposes

The two main purposes for the survey are to determine those pupils who are hard of hearing and who can be placed under medical care, and also those who are hard of hearing and can be moved to the front in classrooms under which conditions better school work can be done.

Teachers in schools are being asked to cooperate and when pupils are found to be hard of hearing, although it has not been recognized before, to seat them in the front of the room and pay close attention as to whether they hear everything that is said.

The committee of the club, composed of Robert Bush, chairman, Harry Seiter, Dr. J. W. Bull and Perry Cooper, have been studying the various audiometers for the past several months, and, with advice from various research men, decided on this particular machine, which has only been developed extensively in the last five years.

Marion Men Assist

Dr. Dan Brickley advised the club on the purchase of the machine, as did Prof. Hayes Newby, now professor of audiology at Stanford university in Palo Alto, Calif. Prof. Newby, who did most of the research on the machine at the University of Iowa, is a son of Mrs. A. W. Newby of 258 Forest Lawn boulevard and the late A. W. Newby.

The machines will be operated in the survey by local people, who will be instructed previously by two girls from the state board of education. Exact and detailed records will be kept which will be passed on from one teacher to another to know the exact condition of each pupil she teaches.

Officers Are Elected By Schoolmasters Club

Annual election of officers was held when the Schoolmasters club met Monday night at Harding High school. Ted Allen was elected president to succeed Kenneth Somerlot. Frank Stanley was elected social chairman, and George Keel, chairman of the refreshment committee. Eighteen mebers were present. An athletic period followed during which volleyball, ping pong and cards were played. Refreshments were served. Plans were made for a picnic to be held for members and their families in the latter part of May.

GREEN CAMP STORE SOLD

GREEN CAMP — C. D. Leonard, operator of a grocery store here for the last few years, has announced sale of the store to David "Davey" Reynolds, who for 23 years was connected with the Kroger Grocery Co. Last winter the Reynolds were in Florida. Previous to that he was manager of the Bellefontaine avenue Kroger store in Marion. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard's plans for the future are indefinite. Following close of the local school they will locate somewhere in Arizona. For the present the Reynolds will reside in Marion.

WALDO AUXILIARY MEETS

Plans for future meetings and events of the auxiliary to Porter-Snyder Post No. 605, American Legion, at Waldo were made when the social committee met Friday night at the home of the president, Mrs. Leelo Augenstein. A regular meeting of the auxiliary will be held Thursday night, and a progressive euchre party, open to the public, will be held Friday night at the K. of P. hall. Arrangements are now under way for participation in Poppy day in May, it was announced.

Children's Fatal Accidents Due Mostly to Burns

It is a tragic fact that the leading cause of accidental deaths among children in the United States is burns. The tragedy lies in the preventable nature of many of these deaths for, with proper first-aid and the right subsequent treatment, many of these lives could have been saved. This is something for every parent to think about right now.

Burns are classified according to the degree of tissue damage; for example, the first-degree burn is one which just reddens the skin; in a second-degree burn blisters from and in a third-degree burn the deeper tissues are injured or even destroyed.

Whenever more than one-tenth of the body surface is affected by a burn of second- or third-degree, there is danger to life. What can be accomplished by good treatment is shown by the ultimate recovery of many people who have had up to half of the body surface burned.

It was thought at one time that extensive burns were dangerous because the body absorbed toxic or poisonous substances from the burned area. Today we are less sure about this, but we do know that one of the worst consequences of serious burns is the loss of body fluids and the consequent shock. A bad burn can prove fatal. Later on, the chief danger comes from toxemia. Subsequently, infection may develop and be another source of grave danger.

Thus, treatment is directed at combating these three things. It consists chiefly in the administration of drugs to ease the pain; the giving, by injection into a vein, of fluids to replace those lost from the burned area, and protection against infection.

Second- and third-degree burns are free from germs at the start but the damaged, weakened tissue makes an almost perfect soil for their growth should they obtain entrance to the wound. For this reason, most physicians do not favor the use of ointment, even though they are sterile and contain an antiseptic, because their application may contaminate the burned area with germs, causing an infection which may eat away more tissue than was destroyed by the burn itself. Then, too, if ointment is applied it will have to be removed later, a most painful process for the patient.

In all cases of severe burns, the first and most important thing is to call the doctor. If he can come at once, it is better not to attempt to dress the wound. If his services cannot be secured promptly, wet dressings, made of a pint of sterile water and tablespoon of baking soda, may be applied over the burned surface. But remember, this is only emergency treatment. It will not suffice to heal the burn or to save the patient's life. For this, medical aid is required, and the sooner it can be had the better the chance for recovery.

In a first-degree burn there is little danger of infection because the skin surface is not broken. Nonetheless, the burn may be intensely painful and, as a rule, a mild ointment, such as sterile petroleum jelly, can be applied to give relief. Cold water, applied to a small first-degree burn, such as that caused by a match, may also be helpful in relieving the pain. However, it should be applied only for a moment.

But, remember, in any burn that is at all extensive, first remove the patient from the immediate vicinity of the accident. Next, call the doctor. Then apply a mixture of baking soda and cool water. Finally, while

Vegetable Grower, 91, Married 55 Years Ago

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, April 13—Reminiscing on his fifty-fifth wedding anniversary celebrated Sunday with his wife, Dan E TenEyck, 91, operator of a greenhouse north of here for 53 years, recalled how he first sold his products by basket, traveling by foot.

In excellent health in spite of his advanced years, he still enjoys working in the soil and often helps out with light work in the greenhouses operated by his son William in Bucyrus Another son Perry operates a vegetable acreage near the Marion county line.

Mrs. TenEyck is 78 years old.

The TenEyck's started what grew into an extensive business with a small building raising only lettuce and radishes, often peddling their produce by foot when unemproved roads were too muddy to permit travel by horse and wagon. Two and a half ton trucks were used to deliver the produce as the business grew. Mr. TenEyck retired from active operation of his greenhouses only two years ago.

MOTHER OF 4 KILLS ALL, THEN HERSELF

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, April 13 — A 32-year-old housewife shot and killed her four children and then committed suicide in her suburban Bellevue home, police reported today.

The dead were Mrs Gilbert E Morecraft, her two daughters, Susan, 8, and Nancy, 7 months, and two sons, Douglas, 3, and Gilbert Jr., 12

Their bodies were found by her husband a solicitor for the Pittsburgh school board, early this morning Police said the shooting occurred shortly before midnight

Mrs Morecraft was found slumped over her bed with Gilbert near her side The other children were killed as they slept in their separate bedrooms

Police said Mrs Morecraft, a former pistol champion at Carnegie Institute of Technology, had used five bullets from a 38 caliber pistol to wipe out her family.

Morecraft said his wife had been under a physician's care since she suffered a nervous breakdown last year.

Is Anybody Happy?

UNDER the old rules of the game, this would be the time to be happy because John Lewis had promised to quit hitting the country on the head with a hammer.

The way it used to be, everybody felt so good when the miners were told they could go back to work that nobody remembered to be sore because they had been on strike. People pointed out that John Lewis was still John Lewis—and let it go at that.

Well, John Lewis is still John Lewis. There was a coal strike that is going to raise hob in the United States for months to come because one man with more power than it's safe for any one man to have in a republic couldn't win a disputed point in a squabble over a pension plan.

There was a coal strike because a labor monopolist defied an order of a federal court. There was a coal strike because this monopolist had caused to be included in a contract a mischievous provision that miners needn't work unless they were "able and willing"—then took it upon himself to decide the matter.

The pension squabble was not a valid reason for a coal strike. It was a demonstration of arrogance and defiance. What's to keep John Lewis from deciding that miners aren't "able and willing" to work again. Where does it stop? What's the assurance, if any, that John Lewis won't start hitting the United States on the head with a hammer next week?

Making It Official

IT'S NOT always easy to be sure what a Latin American "Communist" is, but in the case of the Bogota revolution doubt has been minimized. The Colombian government has broken diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union, following the arrest of two Russian agents accused of helping to start the trouble. The wild weekend that interrupted the inter-American conference cost the lives of more than 300 persons and terrorized Bogota and other Colombian cities will go into the records as a "Communist insurrection."

There is nothing novel about Communist activity in Latin America. Communist parties are well established in most of the republics of Latin America and were running avowed Communists for office as long ago as 1934.

It has been doubtful sometimes whether persons accused of being Communists really were guilty or were being smeared with the accusation, but on this occasion there isn't much room for doubt. When a government breaks off diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union after an insurrection, the trouble hardly can be blamed on local political or atmospheric conditions—especially when the U.S. secretary of state and high dignitaries of the other American governments are standing in the line of fire.

Financial Facts of the Matter

CONGRESSIONAL and popular debate of the foreign aid plan brought out some things that needed to be understood, also some things that merely added to confusion.

Now that the plan has been approved, it's helpful to look at it through the eyes of a financier. The plan is essentially a device to furnish capital for the rehabilitation of capital enterprise. Robert L. Garner, vice president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, explained it in a recent speech as follows:

"It was clear even before 1939 that the European economy, divided into small and often inefficient economic units, and in many cases using obsolete productive equipment and methods, could not hold its leading position . . . As a direct result of the recent war most of Europe's overseas capital was wiped out, much of her shipping and industrial plants were damaged or destroyed, her productive power was crippled for many months, her control over important colonial possessions was broken, and her commercial ties with the rest of the world were disrupted . . . In the necessary reorganization, the United States, through the European recovery plan, is playing the role of a realistic investor—who evaluates the assets, approves the reorganization plans and provides the necessary new money . . . None of the European countries, perhaps, can by itself occupy that position of world leadership which several of them have held in the past, but collectively they are of the two wealthiest and most productive areas on earth."

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Some Evidence of Our Wobbly Foreign Policy.

WHY do not the chosen statesmen of this country recognize facts? Why do they go through the motions of meaningless protocol? A country's actions cannot rise higher than the level of the intelligence of those who determine its policies. Apparently the American level is a drouth.

For instance, Leo Isaacson, Henry Wallace's congressman from the Bronx, wishes to attend an international convention in Europe, designed to oppose the American policy in Greece. The state department declines to provide him a visa, not once but twice. However, it does provide such a visa for Eugene Connolly, leader of the American Labor party, which is the New York arm of the Communist party. Comparatively, Connolly is the more important and more effective person. He has manipulated the American Labor party—a demonstrable Communist agency—into a power which has sent three members to congress from New York City and which has politically blackmailed both Republicans and Democrats into providing indorsements for its candidates.

SOKOLSKY

Why refuse Isaacson a visa while granting one, for the same meeting and the same purpose, to his chief, Connolly? Either the state department does not know who Connolly is, which is an appalling admission of ignorance, since Connolly's work in New York today is the rock upon which the Wallace campaign stands, or someone in the visa office of the state department needs a loyalty test. It is impossible to underestimate Connolly's history or his power of political manipulation.

Truman's Two-Way Policy

Apply the same rule to the shipment of war supplies to Soviet Russia which continues at this moment in spite of the picketing of ships and docks by Catholic war veterans. The President has stimulated the nation to preparedness for war with Russia. He keeps that campaign alive by messages to congress and by various military activities. But he permits war goods to be shipped to Russia. He possesses the power to end that trade at a moment's notice by executive order. However, when it was proposed that American funds, through ERP, should not be used to supply Soviet Russia with war materials either of our manufacture or of the manufacture of ERP countries but released because of our gifts, the President, Mr. Marshall, Mr. Harriman and Senator Vandenburg united to oppose the proposal.

The conclusion then must be reached either that the war scare is indigenously political and can be discounted, or that the administration does not have the courage to act quickly in matters which may lead to reprisals. Certainly, the attitude is paradoxical. It is not to be explained within the margins of logic.

Again as regards Palestine, the administration has pursued a flow-and-ebb policy, perhaps substituting polls for principle. Never has policy been so contradictory in so short a time. Judge J. C. Hutcheson who was a member of the Anglo-American committee to report on the problem and whose recommendations have been ignored, makes a most interesting point in a letter to The Houston Chronicle he says:

Promises, Old and New

"In Jewish history, both Biblical and post-Biblical, Palestine is called 'the promised land.' In modern history, Palestine, land of promise, may be truly described as 'the oft-promised land.' But these promises, except as they are embodied in the mandate for Palestine, are all water over the dam. The rights and obligations of Jew and Arab there, and the obligations of the nations of the world to support and defend those rights, derive entirely from the mandate and the history which has been, and is being, made under it."

We should have had less trouble and many who have been killed would be alive today if the mandate of the League of Nations had been the basis for consideration and discussion. What was the basis? Who knows? Certainly there has been no definition of terms nor a clear statement of basic policy by the administration, which has merely responded to American pressure groups and British, Arab and Jewish external pressures. American policy on this subject appears to be as wobbly as the conversation of a moron. What this country needs is a state department—one that will function consistently for the United States of America. That does not exist at the present time.

Does Russia Want War?

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE Soviet viceroy of Germany, Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky, is a burly, amiable man, surprisingly addicted to reading the works of Jane Austen. In happier days, he once confessed his fondness for "Sense and Sensibility" and "Mansfield Park" to Air Chief Marshal Lord Douglas, and asked the British commander whether Jane Austen had painted a "representative picture" of English life. His amiability seems to have led him astray last week, when he half apologized for the destruction of a Berlin-bound British transport by a Soviet fighter.

It is now generally accepted here, in fact, that he had his knuckles soundly rapped by the Kremlin, and was instructed rather testily to forget politeness and become as firm and as provocative as possible. Thus the Berlin crisis, which seemed to be temporarily at an end, is dragging deceptively and dangerous on.

At any moment, the crisis can flare up again into real acuteness. Nonetheless, Washington and London, Paris and Brussels, are breathing a little more easily. For a few days, it appeared possible that the Soviets were prepared to go to any lengths, not stopping short of war, to halt the reconstruction of western Europe. But the Finnish treaty is now considered to have changed the aspect of affairs.

Finland Not a Pushover

The new accord between Moscow and Helsinki officially places Finland within the Soviet sphere. But the Kremlin wanted much more than this. The first demands were for an 'alliance' reducing Finland to the status of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania in the few months before those nations finally disappeared. The tough Finns refused to accept any such status. The Soviet Union holds Finland, from the military standpoint, in the hollow of its hand.

Yet the reports do not even suggest that any of the usual third-degree methods were used to break down the Finnish delegates at the Moscow meetings. Instead, because there was a genuine risk that the Finnis might resist if their internal independence was impaired, the Kremlin coolly accepted the Finns' own treaty draft.

This obviously significant Soviet retreat is weighed in connection with certain other evidence of a more obscure nature. One item is the state of the East-West transportation links across Europe. The bad dream of the West, that Russian troops will reach the English Channel in a few days, can hardly come true without lines of communication strong enough to carry armies to the Channel and maintain them there. The rail lines running through the Soviet zone of Germany would be the most useful for this purpose. These lines were once the strongest transportation complex in eastern Europe. Yet reliable intelligence reports now indicate that the capacity of these lines has been immensely reduced by Soviet removal of rails for scrap. Another similar item is the fact that Soviet troop dispositions in Germany do not seem to indicate any intention of westward offensive effort.

On the Other Hand

Such is the nature of the evidence that the Kremlin wants no war. There is, however, another side of the ledger. Almost unnoticed, the pressure on Iran has been recently vastly increased. There are hints from Moscow of Soviet occupation of the north Iranian provinces, probably intended to frighten the feeble Hakimi government. Another Iranian crisis may impend.

In Turkey, the new Soviet ambassador, Lavrischev, who is one of the Kremlin's chief Balkan operatives, shows signs of soon embarking on a campaign of bullying. The Italian election outlook continues to improve, but fears of a Communist-launched civil war have far from subsided. The Berlin trouble is going on as noted, and there is a threat of comparable trouble at Vienna. Some observers believe that the Balkan satellites will give much more overt assistance to the Greek guerrillas if the American-planned drive to clean up the guerrillas shows any signs of success. And so it goes.

Therefore the official theory has been stated by one qualified to speak: "The Soviets do not want war now. But they are pursuing their tactics of maximum provocation and maximum pressure on all soft spots so recklessly and with such determination that the risk of war cannot be ignored. The risk exists, and that's all there is to it."

A Prophet Not Without Delegates

Nebraska holds its Republican primary today. It could be MacArthur's last stand. To continue in the presidential picture, Doug has got to take Omaha like Grant took Richmond.

Wisconsin may have proved what many contended all along; that Mac's not much of a campaigner without the Marines.

Stassen 19, MacArthur 8—that's one communique the general couldn't edit to suit himself.

Still, he can take consolation in the thought he may go down in history as the man who never lost a war or won a primary.

The military influence is growing. But thus far the American people have shown no inclination to turn the White House into an old soldiers' home.

Italy Eyes Canada

By The Associated Press

ROME—Italian exporters have learned that Canadian purchases of lemons in the United States will be curtailed to reduce the outflow of dollars. More Italian lemons will be bought. Heretofore, most shipments of lemons have gone by way of New York. Italian shippers hope direct sales will boost profit margins by eliminating American middlemen.

Mrs. Alta M. Dixon of Wilson avenue died in the Marion City hospital following an illness of several months.

Mrs. W. T. Mack was hostess to the San Souci club at her home on the Richland pike.

W. J. Weir was re-elected commander at a meeting of Veterans Post No. 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Henry A. True and Henry A. Mickley were reelected treasurer and clerk, respectively, at the annual congregational meeting of members of the First Presbyterian church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, April 13, 1928.

Frederick Mautz and his guest, Lloyd Yesberger of Cleveland, students at Case School of Applied Science in Cleveland, returned to college after a vacation spent with Mr. Mautz' parents in Pleasant township.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Roebuck, enroute from El Paso, Texas, to New York City to make their home, were visitors at the home of Mr. Roebuck's parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Roebuck of South Vine street.

Mrs. E. J. Salter was hostess to the Di Penates club at her home on Marion avenue.

Mrs. Arden J. Millisor entertained at a bridge luncheon in her home on Chelsea avenue

Mrs. W. F. Linton entertained a company of girls at her home on Carhart street in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Helen.

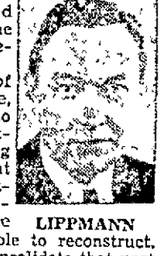
Problems at Bogota

By Walter Lippmann

ON THE causes of the disaster in Bogota there is yet nothing to say because nothing is as yet known, nor do we know what connection, if any, there was between the explosion in the streets and the issues which the conference was trying to resolve.

There may be no more connection than there is between the story of a play and an accidental fire which burns down the theater in which it is being acted. But it may be that this is a warning of how thin is the trust of our civilization and how violent the passions beneath.



LIPPMANN

The course of the conference, before it was so brutally disrupted, gave strong indication that with the accepted diplomatic formulae it is not possible to reconstruct, stabilize and consolidate that part of western civilization which was least ravaged by the war and is the least threatened today.

Secretary Marshall was finding it extraordinarily difficult to reconcile our commitments in Europe with the commitments our Latin-American neighbors believe to be inherent in the inter-American system.

The conference showed, so I venture to think, that the United States and the Latin American republics, despite all their traditional bonds, do not constitute a viable community in the modern world, and that their problems are becoming progressively more insoluble within the confines of the western hemisphere.

The real community, to which we all belong, was not truly represented at Bogota. The geographical boundaries of the conference were on the Canadian frontier and in the Atlantic Ocean.

Artificial Boundaries

These are artificial boundaries. For in their strategical defense, in their economy, in their cultural connections, the Latin-American republics and the United States are not a self-contained community of states. They are part of that large community of which Canada, Europe and Africa are integral parts, and none of the great issues of security and reconstruction is soluble except within the framework of this larger community.

The two world wars of this century, and all the measures that have to be taken against a third, have demonstrated conclusively that the nations from the Canadian border to Cape Horn are not in themselves a strategical system. The Americas have had to be defended in Europe and Africa by Americans in alliance with Europeans.

After both wars the Bogota nations have been unable to recover and achieve a stable prosperity separately. The true economic connections do not run north and south in this hemisphere but are triangular and multilateral around the great basin of the Atlantic Ocean.

The failure to recognize the artificiality of the inter-American system and the reality of the Atlantic community was the underlying cause of the deep trouble in which the conference was laboring when it was so violently interrupted.

Greater tact and diplomatic skill might perhaps have averted the demonstrations against this country. But at best they could only have assuaged and postponed the issues which arise from the fact that our Latin-American policy and our European policy have not been coordinated and harmonized here or in Latin-America. The European Recovery Program and its aftermath — the so-called Western Union—are not transitory emergency measures.

They are a new undertaking which makes it impossible to assume, and to let the Latin republics assume, that the older, pre-war American system continues unchanged. We have reached the end of isolation, not merely for the United States, but for the whole hemisphere.

Purpose of Trip

The reason for Secretary Marshall's going to Bogota at this immensely critical moment in history was to explain in person what should have been explained carefully and persistently during the past year to the diplomats in Washington and in the Latin-American capitals—that the western hemisphere must take its place in the larger community of the western world, of which the Atlantic Ocean is now the inland sea.

That in fact is what Secretary Marshall was trying to say when he attempted to justify the large funds appropriated for "European" recovery and the smaller funds immediately available for Latin-American development.

But the time has come to grasp the nettle of Latin-American criticism of this country, and not to think that by flattery and doles we can somehow muddle through to harmony within the restricted region of the inter-American system.

Federal School Aid

A bill providing federal aid to education has been approved by the U. S. senate. It authorizes an annual appropriation of $300,000,000 to be apportioned among the states on the basis of their need, ability and effort in school support, as determined by formula.

The states receiving the most money, under the bill would be, in the order of amounts received, North Carolina, Alabama, Texas, Georgia, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, South Carolina, Arkansas, New York, Louisiana, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, North Carolina's portion would be $22,825,080 and West Virginia's $10,405,000. Ohio would get $7,090,000.

In Plain Words — By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

MAYBE this will shake you awake if you dream the world may be free of the danger of war any time soon.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal: Thinks the United States must keep a huge pool of trained men in case of war, for at least 50 years.

Seems to think it will be a long time before the United Nations is able to keep peace in the world.

He says:

"Now in our lifetime, or in that of the next generation do I foresee the time when a strong military potential will not be needed to back up our diplomacy."

James Marlow

A generation, the dictionary says, is about 33 years. Adding half our generation to that of the next brings the total to around 50 years.

And Forrestal adds this:

This country will have to try to keep peace in the world until the UN has "gained the maturity and both the moral and physical force with which to deal with any international act of aggression."

He made those two statements to the house armed services committee. He didn't say we must have huge armed forces for 50 years.

He said, though, we must have a "strong military potential," which means men trained and ready to jump in case of war.

Forrestal went before the committee yesterday to argue for two things:

1. A law right now to draft men into the armed forces to build them up.

2. A compulsory universal military training law (UMT) to train youths who can be kept in reserve — without being in the armed forces — in case of war.

FORRESTAL TOLD the committee:

The draft is needed right away. But, once the armed forces are built up, the draft can be dropped if—

UMT also becomes law and builds up a great pool of trained youths who can be drafted into military service at once in an emergency.

But—he warned—unless there is a UMT law, the draft will have to be continued indefinitely.

At this point you may say to yourself: Forrestal is anxious to convince congress of the need for a draft and UMT.

But he's also one of the highest government officials talking of the future and what he thinks are UN's chances for keeping peace.

WASN'T UN SUPPOSED to set up an international police force to do just that: Keep peace in the world?

Yes. But the big nations haven't been able to agree on an international police force. There's no sign they will in the foreseeable future.

If Forrestal saw any sign of it, why would he talk of the need for a strong "military potential" beyond our own and the next generation?

He didn't say UN is a failure. He spoke about the time when UN would have "gained the maturity and both the moral and physical force . . ."

AND HE DIDN'T say this country would step in to keep peace if war broke out between two countries. But—

Right now there is only one country besides our own—Russia—big enough and strong enough to endanger world peace with its military strength.

Forrestal didn't say this country will need an armed force big enough to crush Russia. But he did say:

We'll need a military potential powerful enough to back up "our diplomacy."

Right now our diplomacy is aimed at keeping communism from spreading any further.

Sending of Bonus Checks Step Nearer

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 13—Mailing of Ohio's bonus checks is another step closer.

Typists who will write the names and addresses of check recipients reported for duty at bonus headquarters to begin training.

A bonus spokesman said the date for mailing the first check was still undetermined, but added that Bonus Director Chester W. Goble "is still hopeful the first check will be written before the month is over."

Meanwhile, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson and Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel departed today for New York to sign the bonus bonds. The names of the five members of Ohio's sinking fund commission will appear on the bonds, but only Ferguson's and Hummel's will be originals. Those of Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, State Treasurer Don Ebright and Attorney General Hugh S. Jenkins will be facsimilies.

Campbell School Club Holds Last Meeting

The last meeting of the Campbell School club was held Friday night, April 9, at the school. A program, including songs, readings and other numbers, was presented by the pupils of the school, and guest speaker was Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of Marion. He showed a motion picture entitled "A Boy in Court."

Other guests on the program in addition to Judge Ruzzo were Carolyn Harraman of Morral High school, who gave a whistling solo, Jane Cook of Morral High school, who presented a piano solo, and Mrs. Wilson Massie, who gave a reading.

The remainder of the program was as follows: Bible reading, Georgann Williams; Bible verses by the entire school; devotions and solo, Margie Parsell; piano solo, "May Day," Oral Horn; song, "The Telephone," first, second and third grades; song, "Old Folks at Home," "fourth, fifth and sixth grades; solo, "Down Mexico Way," LoHene Horn; song, "The Cuckoo Clock," first, second and third grades; solo, "A Perfect Day," Joyce Willey; reading, "When Mother Has the Aid," Judy Campbell; a poem, "Safety," first grade; and a solo, "Now Is the Hour," Georgann Williams. Special motion pictures, "America the Beautiful" and "Safety on the Farm," were shown by Carl Bentley.

Mrs. Cyril Willey served as social chairman, and in charge of the program was Mrs. Max Conklin and Mrs. Pauline Davis.

A picnic and "Homecoming" is being planned for May 30 as the last event before the closing of Campbell school, the last one-room school in Marion county. Activities will begin at 3 o'clock that day and a picnic supper will be served at 6. Committees named for the affair include publicity, Robert Campbell, and social, Mrs. Carl Shepherd, Mrs. Ralph Bentley and Mrs. Harry Jones.

FIRE IN CHURCH ROOF

RICHWOOD, April 3 — The Richwood fire department was called to extinguish a fire in a corner of the roof of the Central Methodist church, caused by sparks falling on some leaves in the eaves of the roof, early Sunday. The fire was extinguished without much damage and the Sunday school and church services were held.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

MY husband gave me a quizzical look, then chuckled before answering me.

"My beloved old salve-spreader!" he said. "Asking my advice about the armored car detouring, when you know that Dad would approve almost anything you suggested.

He gave me another look, and smiled.

"It's worth taking you for a ride," he said, "to see the color come into your cheeks. You haven't forgotten how to blush becomingly. But I can't spend any more time tossing you verbal bouquets, so I'll go and find Georges. If his heart is sewed up sufficiently, I'll bring him over pronto. So long, Sweet!"

He lifted his hand in an airy salute, and I blew him a kiss with a warm little glow inside me. There may be more wonderful lover-husbands than mine, but I do not know where. And yet, what stony paths we trod before we came to our present haven of peaceful married comradeship! Sometimes I wonder if that old unhappiness, so long past, has not given a special zest to the bliss we have so determinedly snatched from it.

I knew, of course, what had turned my thoughts in that particular direction. I had not yet recovered from the shock of seeing what seemed to be the re-incarnation of Grace Draper, my bitterest enemy, now long dead, in Carlotta Carroll, the beautiful, brilliant and lovable friend of Mr. "K.", my father's FBI aide, who, my father had said, was "made to order" for the trapping of Otto, traitorous son of Olga, exiled queen of Transvania.

Grace Draper, in her lifetime, nearly had ruined my happiness with Dicky, and even in her death she left a legacy of bitterness between us which had kept us for months from the happiness which now was ours.

As I waited for Dicky's return with Georges, I found myself shutting the pages of that old book with a curious lack of emotion. It did not matter any more, I told myself, and promptly turned my thoughts to the intriguing mystery presented by my father's attitude toward Carlotta Carroll.

He was entrusting her with Queen Olga's private stationery and samples of her handwriting for the purpose of forging notes from Olga to people whom Carlotta wished to contact. Yet, he had cautioned us to say no word to Georges concerning her, and had told us that she was not yet of the "inner council," and knew nothing of either Georges' presence in this country, or of the secrets of the Sag Harbor farmhouse subterranean chamber and passages.

With a shrug of my shoulders I banished speculation — I knew from experience that my father's thoughts, and sometimes his decisions, were unfathomable and settled down to "think of everything and nothing" while I waited for Dicky's return from Georges.

When at last they came into my father's living room, I was surpriser and pleased to see that Georges, to outward appearance, was a changed man. He appeared freshened, and his color had come back—I guessed that he had taken Dicky's advice about a cold shower—and his eyes no longer mirrored the despair that had been in them when he left the room.

But there still was anxiety in his eyes, and I knew by the way he looked at me that he wished me either to advise him as to his future course, or to listen while he mapped it out himself.

Behind the fugitive king's back, Dicky made a gesture which said: "He's all yours." Then with a grin at me, he turned to the door.

The door barely had closed upon him before Georges burst forth into appeal.

"How shall I ever tell her" he asked.

New Mobile Crime Laboratory Demonstrated for Marionites

Marion was visited Monday by the new mobile crime laboratory, gift of the Ohio Moose lodges and Buckeye State Sheriff's association to the state welfare department.

Several hundred persons viewed the completely equipped traveling workshop for law enforcement officials while it was on display at the courthouse from 9 until 12 o'clock noon. The Marion Moose lodge was host to local and state officials at a luncheon at Boughers restaurant prior to the lab's journey on to Bucyrus and other cities for public display prior to being placed into operation.

Accompanying the mobile unit were William McElroy, of Columbus, executive secretary of the Buckeye Sheriff's association, Everett L. McSavaney of London, O., state bureau of criminal identification and investigation representative and A. S. Kimball also of the state bureau of investigation.

Operation Explained

Inspection of the vehicle by the public was supervised by Mr. Kimball who explained the operation of the large array of scientific detection equipment. The ton and a half truck which was converted into a two compartment laboratory contains necessary equipment to do on the job analysis of criminal evidence without delay.

In addition to routine equipment such as two-way radio, fingerprinting apparatus, lighting and firefighting equipment, the lab is equipped with ballistics test equipment, microscope for minute analysis of materials, X-ray equipment for detection of hidden elements and photo developing lab for immediate developing and printing of film taken in the field. A lie detector is to be added to the permanent equipment.

"The lab will prove invaluable for law enforcement men working in the field by providing complete facilities in areas without ready access to crime laboratory equipment," Mr. McSavaney said. "Our biggest trouble will be keeping the public away until we can go over the scene of a crime to pick up evidence. To make the lab most effective, evidence must be left untouched until it has been gone over by investigators, and calls for local cooperation by the police and sheriff's departments, he added.

Stationed at London

The laboratory will be stationed at London and subject to call by law enforcement agencies throughout the state. It will be used principally in connection with investigations of major cases, it was pointed out.

Local officials among the guests at the luncheon given by the Moose included Mayor Harry L. Dowler, Judge Paul D. Smith, Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Police Chief William E. Marks, Patrolman Justin Cornely, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt, fire captain O. C. Stafford, state highway patrolmen E. L. Dennison and J. K. Kerr, James E. Reed, Robert T. Mason, Sheriff LeRoy Retterer and deputy George L. Conroy.

Present from the Moose lodge were governor - elect Ralph Klingel, Carroll Davidson, Fred Reed, Allen Myers and Fred Cowan.

SEES LUMBER PEAK'S END

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 13 — Lumber prices apparently are "receding from their all-time highs," the commerce department said today. It added that future prices will depend mostly on the extent of domestic construction and "the willingness or determination of lumber consumers to defer their use until prices have been readjusted."

Vacation Gas Will Reach, Says Oilman

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 13—There appears sufficient gasoline to meet demands of the nation's motorists for vacation travel, say spokesmen for some of the oil industry firms.

Dr. Robert E. Wilson, chairman of the board of Standard Oil of Indiana, said motorists can expect "sufficient gasoline to handle as much vacation travel as last year, maybe a little more." In a statement, he urged the public to take steps to save gasoline.

The river stage here at 9 a. m. was 50.6 feet, rising .3 of a foot an hour.

Alter said crest predictions would not be available "until rainfall reports from upstream have been received and processed."

"Current rains are increasing the flood hazard," he added, "and indicate a major flood is in the making."

Alter said in explaining a "major flood" that it "could mean six to eight feet or more above flood stage.

"We're not certain of the crest but we want to stress the flood danger. If you're in the lowlands, get out."

Flood Waters Rise In Central Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., April 13—Central Ohio awoke today to more rain, more closed roads, more corn fields under water, and more topsoil flowing to the sea.

People living in cottages along the banks of creeks and rivers got ready to move out if the water came higher, and in some cases the streams already had entered the houses.

Rainfall ranging as high as five inches since the weekend downpours started continued in many sections. Farmers expecting to plow and plant this week looked out on lakes or mired tractors. Occasional rain was forecast.

Athens was isolated as water cut all roads leading to and from the city.

Daughters of Isabella Delegate Appointed

Mrs. Mary Maxwell, regent, and Mrs. Mary Faurot, vice regent were named delegate and alternate to the state convention to be held May 1 and 2 at Dayton, at a meeting of Our Lady of Victory Circle, No. 388, Daughters of Isabella, last night in the Knights of Columbus hall. Other members also plan to attend one or more of the two day sessions.

Plans also were discussed for the husbands and sweetheart party to be held April 26, in Moira hall. The members and guests will meet for a covered dish dinner to be followed by cards.

One application was received and Mrs. Rose McDaniel was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Galaher who has moved to Davenport, Ia.

Professor Discounts Troubles with Russia

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 13—The United States' difficulties with Russia have been inflamed out of proportion to their actual seriousness, says a college professor who recently served as an economic adviser in Germany.

Prof. James K. Pollock of the University of Michigan told the council of world affairs last night that war with Russia was only a possibility.

He added, however, that should western Germany fail to recover, the future would be so black "I would not care to spell it out for you."

Dealing with Russia in Germany, he continued, is a waste of time.

Council Has Grievance Night Over Pay Raise, High Water

It was grievance night at the meeting of City council Monday as complaints by residents and a request for a pay raise by ... ce department workers marked an extended session.

Reversing the order of business, council heard the complaints first and acted upon legislation last, adjourning after four hours discussion and adopting but two pieces of legislation shortly before midnight.

Passed was a resolution authorizing deposit of $800,000, derived from sale of sewer and city ... bonds in the National City ... Marion for a six month ... effective April 29 at interest of one half of one per cent. Also passed was an ordinance authorizing the Marion Water company to install water mains ... Barnhart street and Lin... avenue and to install a hy... at Lincoln avenue and ... street and midway between ... avenue and Barnhart ...

Approximately 30 persons, many of whom comprised a delegation from Local 310 United Public Workers (CIO), had troubles to lay before council.

Union Representative

The union comprising employes ... ash and garbage departments was represented by Herbert ... international representative who sought council action on unions demand for a 15 cent per hour wage increase. Support of union demands was given Marion CIO council representative Ellis Oiler.

... presented to council a ... form which he stated the ... used in lieu of a contract ... consideration of requests ... by the workers

It is in the best interests of the city and the union to have an established relationship whereby changes in wages and working ... ditions could be worked out in conference at an appropriate time each year when budget details are being considered by the city, ... declared.

The city does not hesitate to contract for materials and services ... advance according to budget ... Why can't cost of living ... ses for employes be set up in the same fashion," he asked.

Herman M. Miller councilman, ... ward, moved adoption of the proposals contained in the ... form, seconded by James C Jenkins, Second ward.

Objection Raised

Immediate objection was raised to discussion on the motion by the council finance committee

"The raise is definitely impossible at this time" said Councilman D. R. Biggert, Fourth ward, chairman of the committee.

"We gave the workers a $67,000 shot in the arm last fall with a 10 cent an hour across the board wage increase. The city can't stand that kind of business twice a year," he declared.

Urging council not to be hasty, President William G. Slack said he was certainly not in favor of making promises the city cannot keep.

Mayor Harry L. Dowler said the matter was one of simple arithmetic. With present costs of operation still increasing and revenues dropping off, it had been impossible for the city to expand a budget further in considering operation for the current year, he said. He pointed out that the city took a cut from $100,000 down to $69,000 in state sales tax receipts distribution and further that the ash and garbage departments were already operating at a loss during the first quarter of the current year.

Mr. Miller withdrew his motion, declaring it had been made primarily to get the issue settled one way or another, rather than prolonging it indefinitely. The finance committee turned down a union wage and hours requests on March 8

Mr Slack compromised the issue by calling for a meeting or series of meetings between the finance committee, city auditor and the union, (to go over the union's demands once more The meeting will be called by Mr Biggert, finance committee chairman

Protest Flooding

Next came Mr. and Mrs Joseph Socie, of 606 East Mark street. Mr Socie said he had been trying for five years to get a catch basin cleaned out.

"One more rain like Sunday night and Socie won't live here anymore," he lamented Surface water running over his property as a result of a plugged catch basin virtually inundated his property over the weekend.

Mrs. Socie also asked permission of council to speak, declaring that the condition had existed since 1939 and that at the present time all surface drainage from Polk and Adams streets ran across their back yard.

"We can't afford to have our fruit and garden ruined year after year," she declared

Mrs. Dollie Tibbals of 1 McKinley place presented a problem that appears to stem from the fact that her house stands astride a closed county drainage ditch (the Uncapher ditch which empties into McKinley park lake. and from there into the city sewer system. Heavy rains back up water in the lake, which in turn prevents the ditch from draining off some 200 acres lying to the south.

She declared last night that she has to have a sump pump running 24 hours a day in her basement during rainy weather. Sunday night, she said, she could take a rowboat from her front porch and row a mile before touching dry land.

"I sought relief from the city ten years ago and have never gotten it and if the city refuses to take action now, I am prepared to file suit to get relief," she declared She was a peace loving citizen but thought ten years was long enough to wait for city action, she said

Cites Cause of Trouble

She suggested the trouble lay in the inability of the lake drain to accommodate the volume of water coming down from the ditch Her suggestion was that the city might consider filling in the lake.

"It has been a problem since it was built," she told council "Two lives have been lost already by drowning It certainly isn't attractive in the summertime, covered with trash and scum."

Councilman Biggert recalled when the lake was built that it had been his recommendation that the site be filled in and made a rock garden.

Other opinions were voiced including that of Mayor Dowler who pointed out that the lake was about the only beauty spot remaining in the city. One councilman opined if legislation was ever considered abandoning the lake, there would be such a crowd of protesting taxpayers appear before council that the Eagles hall upstairs would not be large enough to accommodate them.

Referred to Committee

Mrs Tibbals' problem was referred to the sewer committee and county commissioners for joint consideration.

Among the several other taxpayers with requets for council action was Harry Baker, 535 Park boulevard, who wanted to find out why Lincoln park has not been made available to local baseball teams. He was referred to the park board which his negotiating a lease with the Marion Baseball club for use of the ball grounds

Frank Bowen, of 884 Bennett street complained that the alley behind his house, the first alley north of Bennett street running between Fies avenue and Latourette street was in bad condition and needed repair He declared he had been seeking action for a year on the job Harassed council said he would get action this week

A petition signed by approximately 300 residents on Jefferson street asking for bus service was hastily turned over to the utilities committee.

After disposing of visitors and suspending rules to pass two items of legislation, council heard Mayor Dowler briefly review the airport situation and make a plea for council cooperation in handling request for action on the city sewer problem.

The mayor reported revision of airport plans is underway to meet TWA requests The revision will cost the city $2,950 and will when completed provide plans to meet specifications for an airport to cost $520,000.

In respect to sewer troubles of which council hears regularly at each meeting, Mayor Dowler advised council to adhere to a specific program of sewer construction rather than temporary improvements to meet current individual needs

The question arose largely inspired by the heavy rains over the weekend, of whether or not the need was greater for storm sewer improvement or for sanitary sewers It was pointed out that property damage was mounting from inadequate storm sewers.

It was the opinion of the mayor, concurred in by Safety-Service Director E O Uncapher and City Engineer Tom Cathers, that the present sewer construction program be followed through as providing the best solution to the overall needs of the city. This includes priority to the Columbia street interceptor and lakes in the Bennett street, Fies avenue, Nye and Glad street sector in the west end and also the Silver street interceptor taking sanitary sewer drainage now pouring into the Little Scioto River, to the sewage disposal plant.

TONI GAUER

* * *

To Play at New Bloomington

The music department of the New Bloomington school will present Toni Gauer, accordionist and entertainer, in a special program Friday night in the school auditorium, it was announced today. The program is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

A native of Switzerland, Gauer is now enrolled at Ohio Wesleyan university, and in addition to his work there, presents programs of folk songs and music of his country Since February, 1947, he has been getting acquainted with the United States, visiting Swiss communities and schools in 12 states, and hopes to visit each of the 48 states His accordion is a type seldom found in this country and requires a great deal more skill to play than does the ordinary American instrument.

Gauer was the originator of the nationally known drive called "meals for millions" in colleges to help provide 50,000 meals for Europe's hungry at a very nominal cost. In the summer of 1947 he was employed as a translator for folk songs at the Lynn Rohrbaugh Fun Fest Co near Delaware

The program Friday night will consist of dances, polkas, schottisches, marches, songs and yodels. He will sing the songs in many different dialects and languages and during the program will use two Swiss accordions The program will be presented in the costume of his native land.

"shameful example" of incompetence on the part of President's Truman's administration.

How much these final-hour blasts affected Nebraska Republicans remained to be seen in today's balloting.

With polls open for 12 hours—from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.—nearly 300,000 persons are expected to cast ballots in races ranging from the presidential popularity primary down through local offices.

The weatherman forecast partly cloudy weather. Dry, workable fields might keep some of the farm vote at home.

All over America... Smokers Report

NO CIGARETTE HANGOVER

when you smoke PHILIP MORRIS!

—because PHILIP MORRIS IS DEFINITELY LESS IRRITATING than any other leading brand!

If you're tired of "cigarette hangover"—that stale, musty taste in your mouth—that dry, smoked-out feeling in your throat—remember this . . .

All over America, smokers who have changed to PHILIP MORRIS tell us they now enjoy a milder smoke, a fresher, cleaner smoke than they've ever known before.

And for a good reason—

because PHILIP MORRIS is the ONE, the ONLY leading cigarette recognized by eminent nose and throat specialists as definitely less irritating.

NO OTHER CIGARETTE CAN MAKE THAT STATEMENT!

Read What One of America's Top-Ranking Doctors Says About PHILIP MORRIS

"In cases of irritation of the nose or throat, it is my usual practice with my patients who smoke to suggest that they change to PHILIP MORRIS. I inform them that the reason for this advice is that I am convinced that they are less irritating than other cigarettes."

From one of a series of PROFESSIONAL STATEMENTS by EMINENT NOSE and THROAT SPECIALISTS.

Hal Boyle

He installed the dumb wait- er seen in ed his the it. He invented a plow, break for a threshing ma- a lock-dock for laying up a folding ladder and a ing chair. He imported the first "speedometer" to America—an odometer—to clock how far his carriage traveled.

What wife would like to live with a man who kept a skull of a mastodon in the house? Tom did. He also kept a daily record of the temperature from boyhood to death—and he lived to be 83.

He could check back and tell for every year of his life when each type of tree came to bloom, when he saw the first robin, when it rained, snowed, froze or thawed.

He introduced Merino sheep to America and was the first to try to grow nectarines, oranges and pomegranates in Virginia. Had silkworms, too.

HE HAD SO MANY books around the place he finally sold them to the library. He had a different razor for each day of the week and wrote more than 1,200 letters a year—some say 10,000.

Besides his house he designed the buildings for the University of Virginia and the writing desk on which he composed the first draft of the Declaration of Independence.

He never quit building on his house—always tearing one part down and putting up something new. Like a lot of husbands who say they like their homes he spent a lot of time away. In fact he spent almost 40 years away in public service "giving everything I love for everything I hate."

BUT JEFFERSON KEPT coming back always to the big house in which his wife died in 1782, ten years after their marriage. She had asked him never to marry again. He didn't. He lived 44 years as a widower.

He was of simple habits himself but inordinately generous. He went through two fortunes, had to borrow money to leave Washington after two terms as president, and died $40,000 in debt, leaving his elderly daughter penniless.

His home, on which he lavished the care of a lifetime, sold for $2,500 a few years later. It fell into decay. His drawing room was used to store grain. In 1923 Jefferson M. Levy, nephew of the man who bought Monticello for $2,500, sold it for $500,000 to the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation, which has completed its restoration.

More than 200,000 people visit it annually. Jefferson is buried there. He had wanted an obelisk over him no more than six feet high. Congress put one up twice that high. Overrode his last veto.

WHAT PRICE RADIO-PHONOGRAPHS?

● We have been asked whether Magnavox prices were going to be reduced . . . a natural reaction of consumers who have seen or heard of drastic price cuts made on several lines going through jobbers' stock liquidation.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

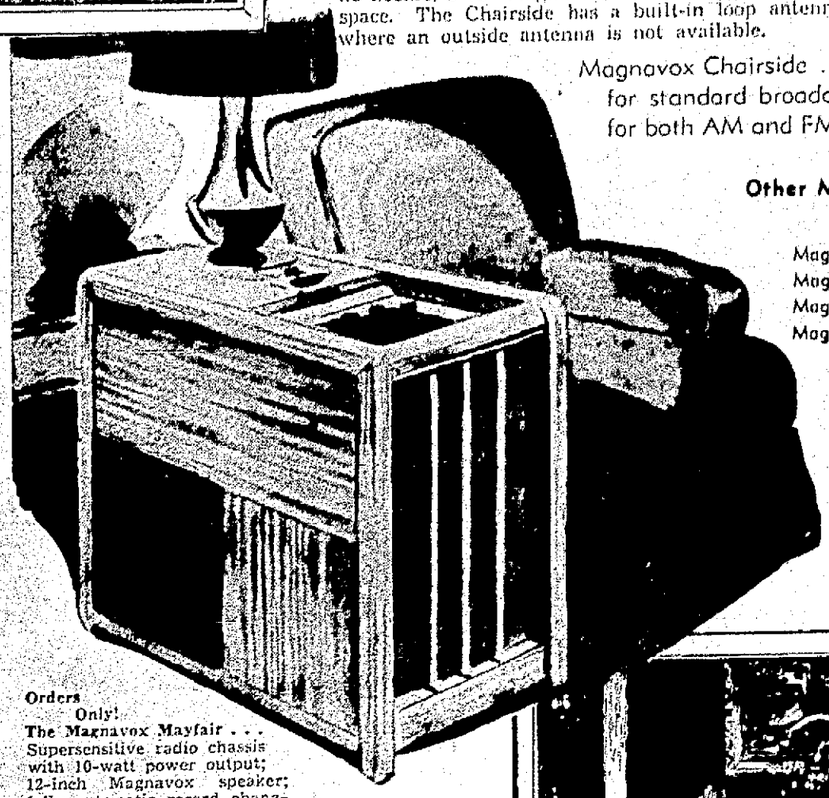
● There will be no reduction in Magnavox prices because there is no room to allow it.

● Magnavox policy has always been to produce the finest instruments at the lowest possible prices to the consumer. Today, Magnavox Radio-Phonographs are, model for model, priced anywhere from 50% to 100% below competition. This difference is due to the Magnavox Company's diligent effort to hold prices down, to exceptionally superior product engineering, high production efficiency and the lowest distribution costs in the industry.

● Present Magnavox prices are actually only 25% above prewar . . . a smaller increase than that involved in most anything you buy today.

● Also bear in mind that such merchandise as is now being liquidated could not be sold at the established price because it could not stand the test of competitive values and was, therefore, never worth the asking price.

● An intelligent comparison of Magnavox values with the new values reflected by drastic price cuts of some other lines, still preponderately favors Magnavox. In addition you are offered the superior performance and quality for which Magnavox is so justly famous.



Orders Only!
The Magnavox Mayfair . . . Supersensitive radio chassis with 10-watt power output; 12-inch Magnavox speaker; fully automatic record changer with noiseless, feather-touch pickup. In white oak or mahogany, $219.50. With genuine Armstrong static-free FM, $268.50.

PENDERGAST RESIGNS POST WITH COOLER

17-Year Connection with Refrigeration Concern Ends.

Announcement of his resignation as assistant to the general manager of Universal Cooler Division of International Detrola Corporation was made today by T. S. Pendergast.

In making this announcement Mr. Pendergast said: "My work with Universal Cooler dates back to April 30, 1931. I have completed practically 17 years with Universal Cooler Division (known as Universal Cooler Corporation prior to being acquired by International Detrola Corporation in 1945). I plan to take an indefinite vacation, the first since 1940. It is my intention to spend the next few weeks on my farm at Morral, route 1, putting the farm and orchards into condition for spring. My definite plans for the future will be announced just as soon as they are completely formulated."

Mr. Pendergast moved to Marion in 1940 when Universal Cooler Corp. moved here from Detroit. At that time he was vice president in charge of sales. During the war years he held the position of factory manager and it was under his guidance the Universal Cooler factory was converted from civilian to war production. This was for a period of two years and four months. After the war Mr. Pendergast served as UCD director of sales until his appointment early in 1947 to the position as assistant to the general manager which position he has just resigned.

Goble Smoothing Way in Case of Draft

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 13—Chester W. Goble, Ohio's wartime draft director, says he is doing some preliminary planning to smooth operations if selective service is revived.

Goble insisted last night the work had no significance.

"I have yet to receive my first directive," he said. "The move is strictly for planning purposes and has absolutely no significance."

"I haven't any more idea than anyone else whether the draft will be enacted again," he continued. "I'm just trying to see what the situation is now compared to March 31, when the draft law expired."

The adjutant general, who also is state bonus director, said he has asked "seven or eight" county election boards for voting data and statistics. This will be used, he said, to provide the "informative information" he desires.

Marion Co. Beekeepers Hear State Apiarist

C. A. Reese of Columbus, state apiarist, was a guest speaker at a meeting of the Marion County Beekeepers association held recently at the Legion Dugout. He told of the different colonies and gave the causes of the dying out of many types. He also told how the state is endeavoring to improve the species of bees, which will in turn improve the soil. Mr. Reese explained that the loss of bees the past winter was very large ranging from 33 per cent in some parts to 80 per cent in other parts of the state.

Meeting Marks Anniversary Of District Nurses' Association

James S. Greetham was the speaker for the April meeting of the Seventh District, Ohio Nurses association, at the Harding Home Monday night. Greetham, who is a diplomat of the American Board of Ophthalmology, spoke on "Nursing Technique in Eye Surgery." His talk was illustrated with a movie showing eye surgery in the removal of cataracts. He also illustrated with a chart the process of transplanting cornea of the eye.

Hostesses were Mrs. John A. Hite, Mrs. Joseph I. Smith, Mrs. Elmer E. Smith, Mrs. B. L. Thompson, Mrs. Lucille Mason, Mrs. Mildred Ruth, Mrs. Hulda Bennett, Mrs. Louise Sims. The meeting also celebrated the seventeenth anniversary of the organization of the district association.

Mrs. Walter E. Hane, president of Seventh District, and Mrs. Marion E. Hinklin, first vice president, were elected delegates to the state convention to be held May 20, 21, 22 in Columbus. Alternates were Mrs. Mae Tisdale of Mt. Gilead, Mrs. Dorothy Jones of Delaware and Miss Irene Tingelhaugh.

Delegate Elected

Mrs. Juanita Peebles was elected delegate to the bi-annual convention at the Stevens hotel in Chicago May 29 to June 4, and Miss Tisdale was elected alternate.

It was announced that the week of April 11-17 has been designated by the national organization for Public Health Nursing as "Help Your Public Health Nurse Help Your Community" week. A proclamation issued by Governor Herbert and a statement issued by Dr. John D. Porterfield, director of the state department of health were received by the Seventh district.

A feature of the social hour was a four-tiered anniversary cake, a gift from Peter Cutarelli. Encircled with 17 candles, the cake was in pink, blue and white as were the dolls depicting years in the life of a nurse. On the first tier were tiny baby dolls, the second, dolls costumed in dresses of adolescent years, the third the high school graduate and topping the cake was a doll in the uniform of a registered nurse. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Hane and Mrs. Juanita Peebles.

Next Meeting Set

The next district meeting will be held May 10 with Dr. Warren C. Sawyer as the guest speaker. He will discuss "Rehabilitation and Treatment of Disease and Disorders in Later Life." In his talk and through the medium of charts and statistics, Dr. Sawyer will discuss the diagnosis and management of the older age groups.

During the business session the members arranged to assist with the ticket sale for a benefit movie at the Ohio theater Friday, April 23. "Sitting Pretty" will be shown as a benefit for the Marion Cancer society. Mrs. Hane and Mrs. H. K. Mouser are co-chairmen for the show for the Cancer society.

Guests were Mrs. J. P. Freshesser, Mrs. Joseph Roseberry and Mrs. Jack Messenger.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 13—Minor irregularity continued to dominate today's stock market proceedings.

While individual favorites made a little headway at a fairly active opening, some failed to hold and the minus column was well filled near midday. Dealings tapered.

Occasional resistance was displayed by Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, United Air Lines, Westinghouse Electric, Du Pont, Southern Pacific, and Southern Railway.

Backward most of the time were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Schenley, National Distillers, American Telephone, North American, General Electric, Transcontinental & Western Air, Paramount Pictures, Illinois Central, Santa Fe and N. Y. Central.

Scribe Picks Yankees Over Red Sox in American Race

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sportswriter

NEW YORK, April 13—The New York Yankees should repeat their 1947 success in the American league pennant race. Unlike last year, however, they will not cakewalk to the championship.

At least two other clubs—Boston and Cleveland—will give the world champions a run for their money. If outfielders Dick Wakefield and Walter (Hoot) Evers should regain their freshman form, the Detroit Tigers, with their wealth of pitching, will have plenty to say before the 1948 race is decided.

This quartet should have a monopoly on the first division. Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics would stand a chance to dislodge one of those clubs if they had anything to back up their gilt-edged pitching staff.

Comes Confusion

Behind the A's come confusion. In Chicago, St. Louis and Washington, the American league probably has three of the poorest looking clubs ever to represent it.

Only one week before opening day, the race shapes up something like this:

1. New York.
2. Cleveland.
3. Boston.
4. Detroit.
5. Philadelphia.
6. Chicago.
7. St. Louis.
8. Washington.

The rush to welcome Joe McCarthy back to the managers' ranks at the head of the Red Sox, plus the purchasing spree staged by the same club has caused people to overlook the Yankees. They forget that the Yankees were good enough to win by 12 games last year despite a crippled club.

Pitching Not Rosy

Pitching—and pitching alone—stands between the Red Sox and the flag. And McCarthy knows that better than anyone else. Right now the outlook is anything but rosy. A lot depends on the condition of Tex Hughson and Mickey Harris, his two ailing flingers of '47.

The Red Sox have terrific power. In Ted Williams, Bobby Doerr, Junior Stephens, Johnny Pesky, Dom DiMaggio, Stan Spence and Sam Mele, Boston can overpower any club in the league with its big bats. Of course, all Boston's power can be thrown out of the window should Williams be forced to undergo an operation for the removal of an appendix. Ted is the big gun. No Williams—no chance.

The ever-aggressive Bill Veeck, Cleveland's head man, has made some remarkable progress with his Indians. Give him one more name pitcher to go along with the three Bobs—the one and only Feller, Lemon and Muncrief—and he'll be on even terms with anybody.

The Indians have the best keystone combination in Joe Gordon at second base and Manager Lou Boudreau at shortstop. Both can hit, throw, and field. The outfield, always a pain to Indian rooters, shapes up as the best the Tribe has had in years. Hank Edwards, Walt Judnich and Dale Mitchell loom as the regular trio. But pushing them hard are Allie Clark, Thurman Tucker, Pat Seery, Hal Peck and Larry Doby.

REDS' BIG INNING SYSTEM PAYS OFF

By The Associated Press

DURHAM, N. C., April 13.—Johnny Nuen, the Cincinnati Redleg manager who believes in the "big inning" system of winning ball games, brought his charges here today for a sixth exhibition game with the Boston Red Sox.

The Redleg manager's theory seems to have found a supporter in left fielder Hank Sauer, Sauer, who batted .336 for Syracuse last year, banged out a grand-slam homer yesterday that enabled the Reds to overcome a six run deficit before going on to win 9-7 from the Bosox at Charlotte.

It was Sauer's 10th homer of the season. The win was the third for the Reds over the Red Sox, and the 20th win in 31 exhibition starts.

The big inning was the Reds' second eight-run frame of the spring and the victory was one of several via the big inning route. Six times the Reds have scored six runs in a single frame.

Boston outhit Cincinnati 12-9, but 12 Redlegs paraded to the plate in the fifth and five hit safely. Before the big inning, however, Johnny McAll, a husky portsider up with Boston from Roanoke, held the Reds hitless for four innings. He left the box in the fifth, though, with none away. Herman Wehmeier, who had a .652 pitching mark in the International league last year, was touched for two runs in the first, second and fifth frames. One of the eight hits he gave was a two-run homer by Boston shortstop Vern Stephens.

Neun picked Tommy Hughes and Howard Fox to do his mound chores today, while Joe McCarthy named Micky Harris to hurl for Boston.

Dillard Picked Best Performer on Track

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 13—Harrison Dillard, the nation's No. 1 hurdler, has been selected by the New York Track Writers association as the outstanding performer of the indoor track and field season.

Undefeated in 54 races, the Baldwin-Wallace Negro was a unanimous choice for the honor. He was the only nominee.

Gil Dodds won the award last year and in 1944. Other previous winners are Greg Rice, in 1941 and 1943, Leslie Mac Mitchell, 1942; Jimmy Rafferty, 1945, and Fred Sickinger, 1946.

TO SPONSOR BASEBALL

CUBS SCHEDULE 2 EXHIBITION GAMES

To Play Newark Yankees at Home and Away.

The Marion Cubs will play the Newark Yankees in two exhibition games before the Ohio-Indiana league season opens April 27.

The Yankees will come here Wednesday, April 21 for the first pre-season test of strength, and the Cubs will go to Newark Sunday April 25—two days before the season opens.

The Cubs are still awaiting a fair day and a dry diamond to play their first intra-squad game. Yesterday the Cubs pitching candidates worked out on the cinders outside the Lincoln Park stadium, but rain began to fall before all of the dozen hopefuls got a chance to show their stuff. A skull session followed the light workout.

In all probability the field will again be too wet for workouts today, but Manager Zeke Bekeza, who doesn't believe in wasting any time, will hold another locker room session in that event.

SPORTS ROUNDUP
by Hugh S. Fullerton jr

NEW YORK, April 13 — In appointing the new non-playing tournament committee for the Professional Golfers' association, Prexy Ed Dudley warned the playing pros that "statements to outsiders" (meaning the press) have been harmful to the association and must cease . . . But wasn't it the publication of such critical remarks which resulted in a cleanup within the P.G.A., which has been widely applauded? . . . If everybody had kept quiet, the abuses probably would have continued indefinitely. . . . Aaron Robinson, traded by the Yanks to the White Sox, tells interviewers: "The Yankees won't win the pennant this or any other season with Yogi Berra as the regular catcher. He just isn't capable of catching for a championship club." . . . Sounds like the makings of a first class feud.

LATEST addition to the list of candidates for the Marion Cubs is Ben Gatch, a lanky pitcher from Chicago Heights, who came to Marion on his own Sunday for a tryout . . . Ben, an 18-year-old graduate of Bloom High school in Chicago Heights, Manager Zeke Bekeza's home town, never played baseball in high school, but Bekeza, whom he has known all his life, saw him working on the sandlots and induced him to come to Marion for a try-out, though he has no contract . . . Ben is a righthander, stands six-feet, three and one-half inches and weighs 185 . . . He hasn't had a chance to show his stuff yet, but one lad who did yesterday was Nick Allvojvodic, the hefty right-hander who didn't show too much when he was here last year . . . Nick can hurl a mighty fast ball and for that reason is considered one of the best pitching prospects in the league . . . Bekeza had him working on a change of pace and curves in the light workout yesterday.

ONLY TWO southpaws are signed with the Cubs. One is John Graney, who was here last year, and the other is Simon Pavkov, an Akron East High school twirler who was wooed by three major league clubs after graduating last year and won by the Cubs. He pitcher for East for four years and hurled for the class A semi-pro Moore Wrestlers of Akron for three seasons . . . Another unsigned pitching prospect is Bill Hecker of Columbus, who won three and lost one for Vicksburg last year. Hecker graduated from Grandview High school in 1945, where he played baseball, football, and basketball. He was with Terre Haute for a month in 1946. He is married, 21 years old, five feet, ten inches tall, and weighs 184 . . . Righthanded Richard Moats of Powell in Delaware county is another pitching hopeful here on his own. Moats played high school football and basketball at Milford Center and baseball on the sandlots. He was in the Air Force during the war. He stands five-ten, weighs 170, and is 21 years old.

Newsom Joins Another Club, The N. Y. Giants

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 13—Louis "Bobo" Newsom, late of the New York Yankees, Washington Senators, Philadelphia Athletics, Brooklyn Dodgers, St. Louis Browns, Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs, has sold his talents to still another major league baseball club—the New York Giants.

Based on previous performances, he won't have to be at anything like his old time form to win a regular starting berth on the Giants.

The Giants are desperate for pitchers.

Last year their murderers' row banged out a new all-time major league record for home runs.

In spite of the quality of their hurling the Giants ended up fourth. This spring they've shown that the home runs are going to be just as frequent, maybe more so. Any pitching improvement would mean a definite pennant threat.

That's where Newsom comes in. He brings with him a lifetime major league record of 205 victories and 213 defeats, the bulk of both in the American league.

Newsom showed with the Yankees in 1947 that he can still win if his mates score a few runs. He should like it with the Giants.

The latest transfer adds to Bobo's record as baseball's most traveled major league player. He's been involved in 15 sales or trades involving at least $100,000 in cash and 20 other ball players. He's had more terms in Washington than many congressmen — four — and is the only active player to play with all three New York clubs.

$50,000 Jackpot Seen In Little Brown Jug

By International News Service

DELAWARE, April 13 — The Little Brown Jug, Grand Circuit pacing classic for three-year-olds, seems certain to offer a jackpot in excess of $50,000 this year.

Delaware speed secretary Hank Thomson said today that nominating fees paid to date forecast a record entry list for the September renewal of the side-winder test originated in 1946 by Jugger Joe Neville and his associates.

Thomson also announced a bumper crop of entries for ten early closing events. A total of 321 horses were nominated for the stakes, which will be worth $35,000.

Six of the nine varsity members of Michigan State college's varsity fencing team are married men.

MUNCRIEF READY TO START WITH TRIBE

By The Associated Press

WICHITA, Kan., April 13—Bob Muncrief had proof today that he is ready to join the front-line hurling staff of the Cleveland Indians.

The former St. Louis Browns hurler pitched the first seven innings of the Tribe's 6 to 5 triumph over the New York Giants yesterday and allowed only two earned runs.

He gave up seven hits and fanned five in the Tulsa, Okla., battle as the Indians narrowed the Giants' margin in their series to 6 to 5 victories.

The two clubs moved here for their next game today with Gene Bearden, Al Gettel and Lyman Linde being selected for Indian mound duty. Ray Post, a former member of the Tribe, will open for the Giants and attempt to go the full route.

Yesterday's victory was hard-earned with a squeeze bunt with the bases loaded in the ninth doing the trick. Pinch hitter Hal Peck executed the bunt perfectly and Manager Lou Boudreau scooted home from third for the winning run.

Previously in the ninth, the Tribe pushed over the tying run when Joe Gordon was walked with the bases loaded.

Muncrief was followed to the mound by Steve Gromek, who allowed the Giants to score the tying run in the eighth and gave two costly hits in the ninth. Russ Christopher rescued him and gained credit for the victory.

KIRK COPS MEDAL HONORS IN TOURNEY

By The Associated Press

PINEHURST, N. C., April 13—The girl who could rate no more than a second alternate on the U. S. Curtis Cup team, Peggy Kirk of Findlay, O., walked away with medal honors in the opening of the North and South women's golf tournament.

The Ohio miss came in yesterday with a 37-35—72 to lead the field by five strokes and today teed off in one of the 16 championship flights determined to give her higher rated sisters a struggle.

The 26-year-old Rollins college graduate's score was the fourth lowest in the tournament's 46-year history. What's more, she made that score the hard way, playing over the tough No. 2 championship course.

Miss Kirk held a five-stroke lead over three rivals, each of whom had 38-38—77. They included Helen Sigel, Philadelphia, No. 1 Curtis Cup alternate, who said she will not make the trip to England next month; Carol Diringer, Tiffin, O., and Mrs. J. D. Platt Jr., formerly of Dayton, O., and now of Pinehurst.

TRACK MEET POSTPONED

The Harding, Bexley and University High school track meet scheduled at Bexley yesterday was postponed because of inclement weather. Tracksters from the three schools will meet today, weather permitting, but in the event of another bad day, the meet will be run Wednesday afternoon.

Smitty Turns To Softball After Cage Finale Ton

After the season's basketball finale tonight at the YM tween Smitty's Girls and the all-colored Novelty Food Bar Columbus, R. Harold Smith, proprietor of Smitty's Grill and of the girls' cage team, will turn his attention to the coming season and the two softball aggregations he plans to field.

A meeting of the two teams, Smitty's Maids and Smitty's All-Stars, will be held at the "Y" following the basketball game.

Started in 1944

Smitty's Maids came into being in 1944 and they have been powerful in every year of their existence. They won the YMCA girls' softball league in 1944, being undefeated in league play. In 1946, the Maids were runners-up in the district, and last year they won the district championship. Their won and lost records in the last two years have been the same, 17 and six.

Of the original team, organized by coaches Lloyd Hurt and Chuck Reid, four girls remain and plan to play this season. They are Alice Barrett, Helen Mochel, Miriam Hurt and Sally Murray.

Of the many games his Maids have played, Smitty remembers especially the first victory over the Mansfield Hardware Girls in 1946, Helen Mochel's two no-hit games, one against Fostoria and the other against Tappan Stoves of Mansfield, and the triple play in the first inning of a game with Fremont last year. In that game, there were runners on first and third with one out when the batter lined to Dorothy Groll who stepped on third and threw to Hurt at first to complete the play.

Also Began in '44

Smitty's boys' softball team also began in 1944 when an all star team was picked to enter the district tournament, and Smith was asked to sponsor it. The All-Stars won the district title that year, the first and only time a Marion team had won it. In 1945 the same team was runner-up in the district, and semi-finalists in 1946 and 1947.

Six players of the original team remain this year—Fritz Walters, Chuck Reid, Wesley Wilcox, Ted Anderson, Lloyd Hurt, and Harold (Fat) Millisor. Others on the original team were Don Atkinson, Bobby Virden, Steve Hanovich, Coxey Weiss, Gene Haas, Bob Milligan, Ken erlot, Shorty Richards ar Bill Darnell.

Bright spots of the games that Smitty remem the no-hit games pit Millisor in the district ments of 1944 and 1945; no-hitter against Prospec last year, Smitty remem the All Star wins over Pen, and over Schmidt' state champs in 1947, and inning game with Richv the Prospect tourname year. He recalls Don A hit that scored the winn in the district title game and the trips to the Wor ball tournaments which w in Lakewood the past years.

Join Inter-City Leag

Happy to join the In league, a loop he consic toughest in the state, S looking forward to anot year playing teams from Sandusky, Tiffin, Ashla Mansfield.

Besides the original six Smitty expects Lefty Culv Cook, Max Roseberry, Da ver, Don Wintersteller, Pe ison, Carol Carls, Dick M and Jimmy Kunkle, to p year. Any others intere playing with the All-Sta contact Smitty.

The Inter-City league p gins in June. The All-St play two games a wee away, and one at Crystal

Yankee Manager Bucky Harris Hopes Scribes Pick Bosox To Cop Pennant

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Writer

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—"What a difference in the team and this time a year ago," said Bucky Harris as the manager of the World Champion Yankees trimmed his toenails.

"I'm not going to say we can't miss but from all the raves I hear about the Red Sox I hope all the writers pick them to win the pennant.

"Sure they have power. They'll also have pitching. But I wouldn't trade our pitching staff for theirs.

"We have five good starters in Ed Lopat, Allie Reynolds, Frank Shea, Red Embree and Bill Bevens. Spud Chandler, with his ailing right arm, is a question mark but he's been looking good. Bevens had a sore arm the first three weeks in camp but he's coming around.

"Remember this time a year ago? Joe DiMaggio had his heel trouble, we talked about trading Johnny Lindell and Bill Johnson and others for Mickey Vernon of Washington. Glad we didn't. Joe Page was rated fifth among my southpaws and you know what he did to those Dodgers in the World Series.

Keller Big Problem

"My one big problem is Charley Keller who had a spinal disc operation last July and was out the rest of the season. He's been taking it easy this spring. He hasn't run or thrown much, but at the plate he seems like the Keller who hit all those home runs. We're all hopeful he comes around and Charley has a lot of confidence in himself. A lot depends on him although Lindell isn't hard to take.

"We have two fine looking rookie outfielders in Ed Stewart and Cliff Mapes of Kansas City. A lot depends on Keller."

Bucky plans to keep Stewart who hit .358 in 145 games for Kansas City. He was the second leading batter in the league and stole 16 bases. If Keller, who still packs power in his muscular arms, wins back his old left field job, Mapes may return to Kansas City where he hit .306 and 21 home runs.

Harris plans to carry five outfielders. DiMaggio, who is hoping for a good year, and Tommy Henrich are fixtures in center and right, respectively.

Stands On Infield

The Boy Wonder of the 1924 World Series will go with his championship infield of George McQuinn on first, George Stirnweiss on second, Phil Rizzuto on short and Johnson on third, Bobby Brown, who set a record with three straight pinch hits in the Series and broke in this spring with a base clearing two bagger against the Braves, will be the No. 1 utility infielder.

If McQuinn shows any signs of tiring from old age (he's 37 on May 11) Brown may go to first base. Harris is also trying Joe Collins and Jack Phillips at the initial bag. Steve Souchock is out of the competition with a broken right hand, sustained while batting.

"Yogi Berra, the little man with the big bat, will do most of the catching," says Harris. "Gus Niarhos will be No. 2. The third spot is a battle between Ralph Houk and Sherman Lollar."

Berra played a number of games in the outfield but Harris will use him this season strictly as a catcher. Noted for his scatter arm throws in the series, Berra has been working overtime on his throwing. Niarhos, the slightly built Greek—he weighs less than 160—is a perfect workman behind the plate.

Led AA Catchers

In 93 games at Kansas City he batted .321 and led the American Association catchers, committing only two errors in 392 chances.

"Don't forget to mention our young pitchers like Tommy Byrne, Cuddles Marshall, Vic Raschi and Dick Star. They all look good," says Bucky. "The best example of that is our scoreless inning record. In our first 38 innings only Shea gave up three runs and in the other innings our rivals went scoreless."

MANSFIELD RELAYS SET THIS WEEKEND

1,000 Athletes Expected for 17th Renewal of Event.

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., April 13 — Ohio's oldest independent track-and-field meet for scholastic stars goes up this weekend as Coach Harry Mehock presents his 17th renewal of the far-famed Mansfield relays.

More than 1,000 athletes, from more than 100 schools in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, West Virginia and Kentucky are expected to participate in the 16-event program. The entry list today showed 127 boys from 11 schools, but a deluge is expected the next day or so for the big meet first held in 1927.

No Entry Fee

Despite the fact no entry fee is charged, the awards list is elaborate. A 48-inch trophy goes to the team champion, with other large trophies going to the school compiling the most points in the track and field divisions.

Twenty 30-inch trophies also go to the top teams, while the individual winners get gold belt buckles, with silver for second places, bronze for third and ribbons for fourth and fifth. The Mansfield Booster club raised $2,500 in a house-to-house drive to defray the costs.

Many of the nation's top stars have first attracted attention in the Mansfield event, among them Jesse Owens, Dave Albritton, Bob Wright, Harrison Dillard, Mel Walker, Jack Keller and John Linta.

Columbus Central was a surprise winner of last year's carnival with 31 points, Cleveland Central finishing second with 26. The meet, until last year, had lapsed for five years because of the war.

Will Defend Title

J. V. Clifford of Canton McKinley, winner of the 100 and 220-yard dashes last year, will defend his titles. Jim Jarvis of Cleveland Central's state champions, who finished second in the 1947 high jump, recently soared six feet 6½ inches to beat last year's mark by 5¼ inches.

While Mansfield is offering its wide open meet this weekend—class A and class B schools compete on equal terms — Lockland will present its class B seventh annual relays Friday night. Another class B fracas, at Huntington, W. Va., is expected to attract some Ohio schools Saturday.

Early entries in the Mansfield affair include Austintown Fitch, Dayton Roosevelt, Green Hills, Columbiana, Cuyahoga Falls, Euclid Brush, Struthers, Mansfield, Cincinnati Walnut Hills, Oak Harbor and Sulphur Springs, along with a 25-boy delegation from New Castle, Pa.

Dodgers Are Champs Of "Grapefruit" League

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 13 — The Brooklyn Dodgers, for the second consecutive year, are the "grapefruit" league champions of the National league.

Manager Leo Durocher's Brooks have five games left on their spring exhibition schedule but they can drop all five and still finish on top.

The Dodgers to date, including their "B" team, have won 30 games and lost two for a .938 percentage. However, they meet their first major league opponent at Ebbets Field Friday when they tackle the New York Yankees.

The Cincinnati Reds trail the Dodgers, having won 20 games and lost 11 for a .645 mark.

Meanwhile, the Yankees have regained first place in the American league standings from the Cleveland Indians. The Yanks won six in a row during the week to boost their mark to .636. The Indians are second with a .600 mark.

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

HAROLD E. STASSEN, born April 13, 1907, on a Dakota county, Minn. farm, has crammed a whirlwind political career into 41 years and now seeks the Republican candidacy for the presidency.

He became governor of Minnesota at 31 and chalked up a brilliant record.

He resigned during his third term for wartimely Navy service in the Pacific where he won citations and then took time out to help write the United Nations charter.

In 1947 he made an 18,000 mile "look-see" tour of 16 European countries and met many political leaders, including Stalin.

He is described as a liberal who opposes United States political and economic isolation.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

Some delegates to the Republican convention in Philadelphia will have to take rooms in Atlantic City . . . That gives them a chance to ballot for Miss America.

• • •

In fact after they've seen the nominees for Miss America they might throw out the whole slate at Philadelphia.

• • •

One delegate returns home, his wife says, "Who did you vote for?" He says "the little one on the end." She says, "It seems to me you vote for him every four years."

• • •

This will be the first commuting convention and I must say it's a long way to carry a smoke-filled room.

• • •

Still if we don't get a good candidate out of the convention we can always blame it on low tide.

The English Channel is about 350 miles long and 100 miles wide at its broadest point and 22 miles at its narrowest.
